Keep Lifeboat Station, Coast Guard Urged

Addition Of Bodega Facility Asked At S.F. Hearing

Retention of the Coast Guard lifeboat station at Pt. Reyes and establishment of a new station at Bodega Bay in Sonoma County was advocated by Marin and Sonoma witnesses yesterday at a four-hour Coast Guard hearing in San Francisco.

Claiming a decrease in emergency calls in the Pt. Reyes area, the Coast Guard has proposed closing the station there and transferring its men to other facilities on the California coast.

Witnesses at yesterday's hearing urged that more, not fewer, lifeboat stations are needed on the rugged coast north of the Golden Gate.

COAST GUARD BOARD

They testified before a Coast Guard board headed by Rear Adm. Ira E. Eskridge, chief of operations in Washington, D. C.

Eskridge, who will submit the board's recommendation to Vice Adm. Alfred C. Richmond, Coast Guard commandant, said the Guard simply does not have the money to put up new stations.

Sole purpose of the hearing was to consider possible abandonment of the Marin County station, but many witnesses from Sonoma County urged establishment of one at Bodega Bay. No Marin or Sonoma witnesses favored eliminating the present station, although each favored a station in his area.

SUGGESTS SHIFT

Capt. A. S. Oko of Inverness suggested that half the men and boats now at the Pt. Reyes facility be shifted to Bodega Bay. He said a Bodega facilility would provide better Coast Guard coverage of Tomales Bay, only three miles to the south.

Oko, who represented the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce and the Pacific Inter-Club Yacht Assn., described north coastal waters as "extremely dangerous." He said the Pt. Reyes lifeboat station should be maintained until refuge harbors are developed in West Marin.

Albert (Dutch) Glotz, who has operated a commercial fishing boat out of Pt. Reyes for 30 years, offered three reasons why he favors retention of the station—three rescues by the Coast Guard, which towed his boat to port during emergencies caused by heavy

Novato City Might Skip Tax 5 Years

Outlay-Income Ratio Could Make Levy Unnecessary

A temporarily tax-free City of Novato was seen as a possibility today in a supplemental incorporation study report by Governmental Research Associates of Oakland.

The report, received by Clark M. Palmer Jr., chairman of the Novato Home Rule Study Committee, said the new city, if incorporated in time, might get by four or five years without levying a property tax.

Should incorporation take place by next Oct. 1, it held, the city would begin the 1960-61 fiscal year with $236,000 on hand.

City expenses during the first nine months of existence would total only $36,124 and its total revenues (in the form of state and county subventions and other sources) would total $272,141, the report said.

If that balance were earmarked for capital outlay and reserves, said William R. Zion, of Governmental Research Associates, $50,000 annually for that purpose out of other revenues, as proposed in his earlier incorporation report. If the annual expenditure for capital outlay and reserves did not exceed the $50,000 estimate, the $236,000 would last for four or five years before needing re-

College Execs, Teachers Get Pay Increases

The expected pay raises for College of Marin teachers were approved last night by the college district board of trustees.

Also approved, virtually without discussion, were raises for six college administrators.

The new salary schedule with yearly increments of $200 up to a maximum of 16 years was unanimously approved, along with a proviso that individual "step problems" are to be brought to the board by the individual teachers.

The new salary schedule will substitute annual salary reviews by the board each March and April for yearly cost of living increases. The board voted to delete any reference to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics cost of living index in the new schedule.

The increases establish a college pay range from $5,000 for a first-year teacher with special credential to $8,800 for a teacher with a doctorate and 16 years experience.

The change is expected to cost the district about $12,000 this year. It is retroactive to July 1, 1958.

Practically no discussion preceeded the motion of Trustee Rupert E. Kempf to increase the pay of the six administrators, also retroactive to July 1.

The motion was seconded by Mrs. Elizabeth Deedy and passed unanimously.

The action raises the pay of college president Ward H. Austin to $14,000 a year from $13,000; vice president Paul Clymer from $9,550 to $10,300; adult education director Samuel N. Lecount from $8,370 to $9,120, and dean of men Irwin Diamond and dean of women Dr. Marjorie Palmquist from $8,500 to $9,000.

F104s Could Have Caused Marin Boom

A sonic boom that jarred much of Marin at 2:30 p.m. yesterday "as more than likely" caused by an F104 Starfighter from Hamilton Air Force Base, a spokesman for the 28th Air Division at the base said today.

The jar was felt in varying degrees over much of South and Central Marin, but apparently no one felt it in North Marin.

A woman in San Rafael's Sun Valley telephoned the Independent-Journal to say the shock "felt like a car hit the house." She thought it might have been an earthquake.

Windows were rattled in San Anselmo. Fairfax Fire Chief Charles Thornton thought the Charles Harney Co., which is moving the point of a hill beside Sir Francis Drake boulevard, had set off a dynamite blast.

Mrs. Helen Waterman, 303 Palm avenue, Kentfield. called the sheriff's office to report a "terrific blast."

The boom was heard and felt in Corte Madera and south through Mill Valley to Sausalito and the Tiburon Peninsula.

The Air Force spokesman said several of the supersonic Starfighters were in the air over Marin at the time, participating in exercises. He said it was logical to assume that one of them caused the boom.

Dulles' Operation Called 'Successful'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today underwent a hernia operation which was pronounced successful, but doctors delayed a public report on whether they found a recurrence of cancer.

Walter Reed Army Hospital, where the surgery was performed, has elaborate arrangements for quick findings on an examination of tissue for malignancy. At least preliminary results often are provided to the surgeon before he finishes operating. In Dulles' case an announcement was put off until noon tomorrow.

Dulles was operated on in 1956 for removal of a cancerous portion of his lower intestine. Doctors said in advance of today's surgery they had found no sign of a recurrence.

Word of the success of the operation itself was relayed quickly to President Eisenhower by his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who was one of those in the operating room.

About the time of the report to the White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty again emphatically denied reports that Eisenhower is sounding out members of Congress regarding a possible successor to Dulles.

Engle Hints Dulles Should Step Down

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Freshman California Sen. Clair Engle said today that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles "should quit if he can't do the job."

Engle stopped short of calling on the ailing secretary, who underwent a hernia operation today, to step down.

Tiburon House Found In Flames

A supposedly unoccupied house at 130 Main street, Tiburon, was found ablaze last night, with a gas heater turned on but no sign of an occupant.

Both Tiburon and Belvedere Fire Deartments responded to the alarm when a passerby saw smoke coming from the small house, owned by Fred G. Zelinsky.

Fire Chief Jack Ishmael said he found a smouldering box spring, curtains ablaze and the gas heater turned on full.

The blaze was quickly extinguished and the case referred to Undersheriff Eugene Meyer for investigation.

County Urged To Buy More Tiburon Land

Marin County, which already has 18 acres of land near the former Tiburon Naval Net Depot, should purchase more land and open the area up for public recreation such as boating and picnicking, in the opinion of the Marin County Recreation Committee.

The committee, headed by James M. Fletcher, met at the county courthouse last night and approved the idea of a public recreation area on the eastern coast of Tiburon peninsula.

This suggestion will be incorporated in the final report on parks, beaches and boating facilities, which is being prepared by a subcommittee headed by Mrs. E. L. Kessel of Novato. Mrs. Kessel pointed out that a recreation area at the former net depot site could also provide a takeoff point for Angel Island park.

The report, when completed, will be turned over to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The Navy last year closed the net depot site and moved out. Committee members said they feel this is the best chance to acquire land there before private developments come in and make the land more expensive.

The Marin County Recreation Committee also urged the county to back the proposed National Recreation Area for a strip of coastline from north to Bolinas to the tip of Pt. Reyes peninsula.

Floods Still Peril Indiana, Subside In Ohio

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Huge ice jams and more rains were potential danger marks today in flood-menaced sections of Indiana as overflows in northern Ohio subsided.

The major flood peril appeared ended on the upper Wabash River above Delphi, Ind., after driving thousands of persons from their homes. West Terre Haute was in line as the next major target of the flood waters.

Sandbagging crews worked through the night in a steady drizzle at West Terre Haute building a temporary dike along Sugar Creek, a Wabash River tributary, instead of trying to patch a 300-foot break in the permanent levee.

Meanwhile, evacuated families in Logansport and Wabash prepared to return to their homes. The Wabash also dropped rapidly at Peru, one of the communities hardest hit by the midwinter floods.

In Ohio, the Maumee River, after overflowing in several places along a 20-mile stretch southwest of Toledo, dropped back to normal.

Residents were returning to their homes in other northern Ohio communities.

Span Board Orders Study Of Traffic Control Plan

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors today authorized the bridge general manager and engineer to explore costs of design, construction and installation of traffic control arches across the span.

As proposed by the traffic engineer, 13 to 18 arches would be installed at cost estimated in the neighborhood of one million dollars, to regulate flow of traffic in the various lanes.

Through a series of red, green and yellow lights on the arches, a central control station could regulate direction of traffic on the two middle lanes of the bridge, making it possible to have four lanes of traffic move in one direction during peak hours of one-way movement.

In addition, telephones at each arch would connect with the control center and automatically turn on yellow warning blinkers whenever the receiver was lifted.

The board authorized the chairmen of the building and operating and insurance committees, Daniel Del Carlo and L. E. Castner, to go east to inspect similar installations.

The general manager and traffic engineer were instructed also to make further studies on a proposed trial installation of automatic toll collecting devices.

Marin's Mercury Falls To Chilly 26

The temperature dropped to 26 degrees this morning at the Marin County Fire Station in Woodacre — the coldest yet in 1959.

There was frost all the way from Tiburon north as the sun rose. Much ice was reported in West Marin.

Novato reported a 30-degree minimum reading at the main firehouse; Hamilton Air Force Base and Tamalpais Valley, 32 degrees; San Anselmo, 33; Mill Valley, 34; San Rafael, 35.

Moderate to heavy rainfall was expected tonight, with temperatures slightly lower than usual, the Weather Bureau reported. The wet weather will continue through tomorrow with snow in the mountain regions, the forecaster said.

Southwest winds, up to 25 miles per hour, whipped the storm south from the Oregon border. Small craft warnings were hoisted from Cape Blanco to Pt. Arena.

Tire chains were required on U.S. Highway 40 from between Baxter to Donner Lake; on U. S. Highway 50, from Fred's Place to Meyers, and on Highway 40A, the Feather River highway, between Vincent and Hallelujah Junction.

Other mountain roads were icy in places and motorists were warned to carry chains.

The Weather Bureau put out this forecast for winter sports fans:

"Areas from Yosemite northward are expected to have intermittent snow through the weekend. Moderate to heavy snowfall is expected in the extreme north Saturday and the other areas south to Yosemite Saturday night or Sunday. South of Yosemite cloudy skies are expected but little snow before late Sunday. Temperatures will be slightly below normal."

Span Commute Tickets To Cost More

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors voted today to increase the price of commute tickets over the bridge one-half cent each to pay for a new type ticket book.

By unanimous vote, the board authorized a price of $9 for a 50-trip book which will be valid for two months. The new rate is to be effective July 1.

The present book costs $7 for 40 trips and is valid for 45 days.

Marin director Leland Murphy announced he intends to seek commuter toll reductions after July 1, when a $1,200,000 bond redemption payment is due.

Both Murphy and Marin's other director, Matt A. Graham, voted for the increase today.

Graham said the increase is "only about the cost of one trip per book . . . As far as I'm concerned, we could reduce it at any time."

The new books will be of pre-punched tickets which can be torn out and handed to toll collectors. The pre-punching will provide for automatic tabulation in the bridge auditor's office. However, the new books will cost 20 to 26 cents each as compared with five cents for the present punchcard.

Present maximum is 80 cents.

Mrs. Eustis said that a special meeting of the school trustees will be held at her home Monday at 1:30 p.m. for a continued discussion of the tax rate problem.

Boy, 14, Snatches Vodka From Store

A 14-year-old Novato boy snatched a bottle of vodka worth $3.99 from a San Rafael liquor store and dashed out about 7:30 last night.

The youth's two companions, also 14, were caught by clerk Roy Edward Barnett of Flamingo Liquors, 1335 Fourth street, and held for police. They told officers they had no idea their friend would steal the bottle. They identified the shoplifter and described his clothes.

An hour later, police caught the shoplifter near the bus depot. He admitted he took the liquor, but realizing he would be caught, tossed the bottle into the creek near Albert Field. The bottle could not be located.

Brown Rejects Plan For College Tuition

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today rejected a proposal by Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post to impose tuition fees at the University of California and state colleges.

It would, he said, change the basic concept of free higher education in California, and would be like charging a tuition fee at grammar and high schools.

Post, in an analysis of the governor's two-billion-dollar state budget, proposed a $150 annual tuition fee at U.C. in addition to the present $120 incidental fee. He suggested raising the incidental fee at state colleges from $44 to $50 and adding a $76 tuition charge.

"I am not about to charge tuition at the university and state colleges," Brown told his news conference.

The governor disclosed he had discussed a plan to impose a tuition fee along with increasing scholarships to help out needy students. He said, however, it was something he wanted to take up with the university board of regents.

"I feel this should be explored," he said.

Brown referred to a statement in Post's report on the number of sports cars and convertibles in campus parking lots.

If the legislative analyst's recommendations on tuition go into effect, he went on, "the convertibles and sports cars would still be there but there would be a lot of boys and girls without money who wouldn't be there."

Post told the Legislature that it could gain 127 million dollars in various economies and fund reductions throughout the state budget. In addition, he pointed to possible use of some 24 million dollars in reserves.

The governor reserved his comment until further study of the 640-page analysis, but said "I am interested in economies wherever they can be made without hurting the quality of education, health and welfare services."

He protested that Post's suggestion to cut operation funds for the Department of Mental Hygiene by $2,800,000 would be dangerous. It would impede a program which Brown said is making progress on returning mentally ill people to useful lives in their community.

Similarly, Brown rejected Post's proposals to delete funds requested by the governor to set up a consumer counsel and an economic development agency.

Legislators Confer On Water Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Southern California legislators and water leaders hope to decide today on a state water program they can all agree on.

Their meeting, which started yesterday, was closed to the press. At a recess, spokesmen told reporters they couldn't give details of the discussion until everybody had been heard.

Assemblyman Carley V. Porter (D-Compton) said all the county water leaders who spoke yesterday wanted to go along with Gov. Edmund G. Brown's water plant, with certain reservations.

Sen. John A. Murdy Jr. (R-Santa Ana) said the spokesmen for San Diego, Imperial, San Bernardino and Riverside Counties agreed that these points should be added:

A simple constitutional amendment to protect the validity of state water contracts, provisions for adequate financing, maintaining revenue reserves for water development, and insistence on a statewide scope for a state water system.

In his water message, Governor Brown said he felt a constitutional amendment was unnecessary, although he wasn't closing the door on one.

Lumber Firm Protests Rail Spur Abandonment

Randolph (Dolph) C. Doherty, owner of Larkspur Lumber Co., today said he would protest the plea for abandonment of the one-half mile Northwestern Pacific Railroad spur filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Doherty said a railroad plan for his company to use the spur at Corte Madera is unsatisfactory and that he will protest the abandonment by letter to Washington.

He said his company is in the practice of unloading flat cars from both sides and that this would be impossible on the Corte Madera tracks.

He said other firms also would be affected by the abandonment including Booth and Little Roofing Contractors and North Bay Lumber Co.

He said this roofing firm receives carloads of shingles from northern points and the other lumber company receives shipments of sheet rock in his yard.

Doherty said he expected the ICC to set a hearing in the Bay Area before acting on the abandonment request.

Don Kilborn, assistant to NWP general manager George L. Morrison, yesterday said the application to the ICC was submitted about two weeks ago.

He said he did not expect the persons served by the line to protest the action.

Doherty said the spur handled more than 50 cars per year. The spur runs north from the old Baltimore Park station to end on lumber company property. It was a portion of the former mainline to San Anselmo and Fairfax in days of electric operations.

New Apparel Shop Opens In San Rafael

The Ella Joseph Casual Wear shop opened its doors yesterday to San Rafael shoppers in a new building on the site of the 1957 San Rafael fire.

The store is located in a just completed building at 1417 Fourth street, with parking for 26 cars in a rear lot off D street.

Ella and Joseph Schwartz, owners of the shop, have combined their first names for purposes of naming the new store. It specializes in moderately priced sportswear for women.

Schwartz was formerly engaged in the woolen business in New York City. His wife has been in the retail clothing business for 25 years, and is a former store manager of Edna Lee store in New York City. She also worked for Peck and Peck shops there.

Since coming to Marin County eight months ago the Schwartzes have lived at 11 Green way, San Rafael. They have a married daughter and two grandchildren living in San Francisco.

Those workmen at the San Rafael Post Office are there to keep the rain off.

Sabraw Brothers, San Rafael contractors, have begun construction of a six-foot roof extension over the post office door, Postmaster Warren H. Williams disclosed today. The canopy should be completed early next week, he said. The roof will be tiled in the same style as that of the building.

About the time Sabraw Brothers get through, Manor Painters of San Francisco will start paiting the interior of the post office.

The jobs are being done under contracts let by the General Services Administration, which maintains federal government buildings.

Backing For Ike's Economy Plan Cite

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana advised President Eisenhower today his mail reflects overwhelming support for the President's insistence the government live within its income. Eisenhower called that "most heartening news."

The White House said Eisenhower's own mail shows "a very, very great overwhelming majority" in favor of his advocacy of a balanced budget.

Two weeks ago the President and GOP congressional leaders joined in calling on American citizens to say so if they believe in the administration's budget stand.

Nixon Winging Way To Visit On West Coast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon left by plane today on a five-day West Coast trip that has strong political overtones.

Nixon will help Oregon and its new Republican governor, Mark Hatfield, observe the state's centennial anniversary tonight and tomorrow, then move on to California for his first home state visit since the Democratic landslide of Nov. 4 buried the statewide GOP slate.

IN S.F. SUNDAY

Nixon will confer in San Francisco Sunday with GOP leaders and hold a news conference.

On Monday and Tuesday he will meet Republican leaders in the Los Angeles area. He also will hold a televised news conference before the Los Angeles Press Club before returning here Wednesday.

Nixon was due in Portland tonight. He will visit Astoria and Salem, the Oregon capital, tomorrow and then return to Portland for an evening speech. He will fly to San Francisco Sunday and on to Los Angeles Monday morning.

IMPORTANT ASPECTS

The vice president's aides left no doubt that the visit had important political aspects. Nixon is concerned about shoring up the shattered California GOP ranks for 1960.

His administrative assistant, Robert L. Finch, a former Los Angeles county central committee chairman, went to the coast ahead of the vice president to lay groundwork for the visits.

HEART WIRED FOR ELECTRICITY

After Charmaine Augustine, 7, of Jackson, Mich., had a heart operation she had to wear a little "portable pacemaker" on her dress, to send electrical impulses through two tiny wires into her heart. Last week, when this photo was taken, doctors disconnected the gadget and told her the heart was normal. She is shown with Kit Olmsted, son of a doctor at Cleveland (Ohio) Clinic, where the surgery was performed. (AP Wirephoto)

Youth Swallows Caustic, Ammonia

Gary Billinghurst, 18, San Rafael High School senior, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, recovering from the effects of a caustic and ammonia which he swallowed last night.

The youth's father, Victor B. Billinghurst of 338 Du Bois street, San Rafael, took him to the hospital about 8 p.m., San Rafael police reported.

Mrs. Billinghurst said her son spent a comfortable night and is in good shape. She said he has been a good student at school and she does not know what led to the incident.

Luxury Apartments Going Up In Fairfax

Start of construction of a 32-unit apartment building with luxury accommodations on Olema road in Fairfax was announced today by Robert A. Roumiguiere of Robin Hood Land Co., Inc., the developers.

A $153,000 building permit has been issued by Robert Roy, Fairfax building inspector. When completed, the project will represent a $300,000 investment, Roumiguiere said.

The developer described the apartment house, being built by Edward W. Burgar, Inc., of San Rafael, as "designed to provide glamorous suburban living." Besides the building itself, the project includes a nine-hole putting green, a 36-foot radiant heated swimming pool, shuffle board, horseshoe pits and barbecue.

The building, to be known as the Nottingham Apartments, will have one and two-bedroom units, all with wall-to-wall carpeting, all-tile baths, electric stoves and refrigerators. Each apartment will communicate with the front entrance through a buzzer and telephone system.

Designers were Edward Hageman and Associates. Scheduled completion date is May 1.

The land was recently annexed to the City of Fairfax to provide city services.

Volkswagen Tire Thieves Strike Again

Two more Volkswagen owners have been victimized by tire thieves.

Anne M. Birkbick, 22, nurse at Marin General Hospital, said she left her car parked in the hospital lot Wednesday from 3 to 11 p.m. When she bought gasoline that night, she found her spare wheel and tire missing. She told sheriff's deputies that tires were stolen from cars of two of her friends the same night.

William L. Earle of 209 Alpine street, San Rafael, drove into a San Rafael service station yesterday and asked the attendant to check the air in the spare tire. The attendant opened the compartment and said: "You don't have a spare tire to check."

Earle said that one week ago he parked his car outside the Bon Air Apartments, in the same area where other spare tire thefts from Volkswagens have occurred.

L-CM Recreation Events Called Off

Bill Gordon, director of the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint recreation program, has announced the canceling of district activities Saturday, Monday and Wednesday with the exception of tennis instruction Saturday at Larkspur-Corte Madera school.

Gordon, who is to attend a conference next week at Los Angeles, said the physical fitness program, art for fun and rock collecting programs on Saturday will not be held. He said the sports night program on Monday and Wednesday also are canceled for next week.

The next major activity of the recreation commission will be a Feb. 28 snow trip to Sierra Ski Ranch.

College To Dedicate Library Wing March 1

Trustees of College of Marin last night set March 1 for dedication of the new $125,000 library addition and voted to seek $8,500 in federal funds to help purchase science and language classroom equipment.

The dedication ceremony for the new matching wing to the Ada M. Fusselman Library will be held at 3 p.m. The wing will approximately double library reading room space and provide a classroom in the basement and rooms for record listening.

At the request of College President Ward H. Austin, the board voted to seek federal funds under the National Defense Education Act for purchase of earphones and recording equipment for language studies, and for chemistry and geology laboratory equipment.

Austin said the total cost of the equipment would be about $17,000 but that the school would be required to pay only half, which could come from $21,000 remaining in the equipment budget.

The board reluctantly approved $226 in conference travel allowances to weekend or spring vacation conferences within the state.

The board also:

1. Authorized Austin to get estimates for replacement of football field light standards using equipment now stored. Preliminary estimate of cost was $10,000.
2. Ruled that students, faculty or employees would be subject to dismissal for power tool safety violations.
3. Requested Austin to advertise for bids for sale of seven electric welding machines, six steam radiators and kitchen appliances.
4. Authorized expenditure up to $500 to install a foundation for a prefabricated steel building to serve as new college bookstore.

The first apothecary shop in North America was opened in Boston in 1646.

Deputy Suffers Injury To Eye

Deputy Sheriff William McKillop received hospital treatment yesterday for an eye injury suffered on duty during the swing shift the night before.

McKillop said he either got something in his eye and tried to wipe it out, or bumped it while putting two juveniles in the juvenile cell.

A doctor at San Rafael General Hospital said the outer tissue of the eye had been torn.

Leroy Wilkie Gains After Operation

Leroy F. Wilkie, president of Minto and Wilkie Insurance Agency, Inc., was in "good" condition at Marin General Hospital after major surgery yesterday.

He was admitted to the hospital Wednesday. He resides at 378 Forbes avenue, San Rafael.

FUTURE PLAYGROUND—This was Pine Tree Home in its heyday, as shown in a special illustrated supplement to the Marin County Journal in 1887. The house, still standing at 1006 Fifth avenue, and the 6,600-square-foot portion of the lot remaining, have been sold to the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco. The house will be torn down and the lot will become a playground for St. Raphael's School.

San Rafael Landmark Home Sold To Catholic Church, Will Be Razed

The once-noted Pine Tree Home on San Rafael's Fifth avenue will be torn down next summer to provide a playground for St. Raphael's School and parking facilities for church-goers.

Purchase of the property, a 6,600-square-foot lot between the church and the Fifth avenue building, by the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco was announced today by Cole Jackman, San Anselmo realty broker who handled the transaction with assistance of broker Edward P. Morphy.

Sellers were Doris and Gretchen Eden, sisters who inherited the property from their father, one-time County Coroner Stephen Eden. The sisters lived in the home until recent weeks, when they moved into a new residence on Fairhills drive.

Purchase price was $46,250, said Rev. Daniel McAlister of St. Raphael's.

Father McAlister said the property will provide the parish with needed St. Raphael's School playground area which also can be used on Sundays and special event days as a parking lot.

Shortly after school closes in June, the house will be torn down and the lot will be leveled and surfaced, he said.

The house, which is believed to date back to the 1870s, was a showplace in its heydey. Known as Pine Tree Home, it was the residence of Henry P. Wood, from whom it was later purchased by Eden.

The grounds were more spacious then, including the property where the Fifth Avenue building now stands. The front yard was later much reduced in depth by widening of Fifth avenue.

Vessel Grounds At Humboldt Bay

EUREKA (UPI)—The Danish motorship Sinaloa, out of Copenhagen, ran aground today on a sand spit inside the Humboldt Bay bar about 100 yards off the north jetty.

The Coast Guard cutter Avoyel managed to get a line aboard the vessel which was grounded on the north side of the channel, but attempts to get it free were not immediately successful.

A burglar stole camera equipment and part of a bridle from a home on West Fifth avenue, outside San Rafael, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Vertiplane Damaged In Takeoff

SAN DIEGO (AP)—An experimental vertical takeoff plane developed by Ryan Aeronautical Co. was damaged in a practice emergency landing today, the company said.

Peter Girard, Ryan's chief engineering test pilot, was not seriously injured. Bones in one foot were fractured.

The accident happened at the Navy's Moffett Field, south of San Francisco, where the unusual plane is being tested for the Ames Laboratory of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Ryan said Girard was simulating an emergency landing and that the vertiplane came down hard enough to shear off its two propellers and damage its turbo-propeller gear boxes. The plane's frame was also damaged.

It had made many successful test flights.

U.S. Fines 3 For Bird Law Violations

Three Marin County men were fined a total of $150 in San Francisco today after pleading guilty before U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesh to charges of violating federal migratory bird laws.

Fines of $75, $50 and $25, respectively, were paid by Donald Zunino, 33, operator of the Lincoln Bait Shop and Bar in San Rafael; Richard H. Garzoli, 36, a roofer of 618 Atherton avenue, Novato, and Joe Luiz, 35, Lucas Valley road dairyman.

Zunino was accused of possession of nine strings of untagged wild ducks in his shop refrigerator. Karesh ordered the ducks returned to the parties who shot them, but only if the hunters can establish that the birds were legally caught. If not, the ducks will be turned over to charitable institutions by state fish and game wardens.

Garzoli and Luiz were accused of illegally using 100 pounds of grain as a bird lure at the Salty Gun Club on San Antonio Creek in North Marin.

Garzoli told Karesh he was solely responsible and that Luiz merely was his guest. The commissioner suggested Garzoli reimburse his friend for the $25 fine, and Garzoli indicated he would.

The charges against the trio were filed by Marshall C. Dillon, U. S. game management agent.

Sanitary District Plans Annexation

Las Gallinas Sanitary District directors last night initiated proceedings to annex Marinwood Unit 6 to the district.

Seventy homes are to be built in the new addition to Marinwood. The developer, Hwers Brothers of Los Angeles, will pay $2,380 to the district for providing sewer facilities to the 23.8-acre tract.

Mrs. Annie Reagan, secretary, reported the last three residents who had objected to having garbage pickup by the district-licensed disposal agency agreed to comply with the garbage ordinance after it was explained to them at the meeting.

The district's new administration building should be ready for occupancy in time for the April 9 meeting, directors were told.

100 BASE THERE

Ray Carpenter, Bodega Bay fisherman, said more than 100 commercial fishing boats are based there.

"In real adverse weather," he testified, "it's often impossible for us to get help from Pt. Reyes."

Other commercial fishermen said nobody can predict where the fish are going to run. They said Bodega Bay boats might shift to Marin waters next year if there is a concentration of fish off Pt. Reyes.

Joseph Mendoza, Pt. Reyes landowner who leases property to commercial fishing interests, appeared at the hearing with his attorney, Albert E. Bagshaw of San Rafael. Bagshaw asked retention of the Marin station.

OTHER WITNESSES

Other witnesses were William Grader of Fort Bragg, representing 1st District Congressman Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera), and V. M. (Bob) Moir, manager of the North Coast Council, California State Chamber of Commerce. Both urged that the needs of commercial and pleasure boating interests be served by lifeboat stations at Pt. Reyes and Bodega Bay.

Oko said there was a general feeling that the Coast Guard's budget is "wholly inadequate" to provide needed facilities. He cited the earlier abandonment of stations at Pt. Bonita and Bolinas. Besides Pt. Reyes, the Coast Guard has three other Northern California stations—at Monterey, San Francisco's Ft. Point and Humboldt Bay near Eureka.

Also on the hearing board yesterday was Capt. Charles B. Arrington, chief of operations for the 12th Coast Guard District. The board went into private session after the public hearing.

ADVERTISER AT WORK!

One of advertising's biggest jobs is to attract attention. As you read this newspaper, page by page, you'll notice the different and ingenious ways that ads catch your eye.

But attracting your attention is only part of advertising's work. Once it has stopped you, an ad must go on to inform you, interest you and convince you.

Thus advertising creates demand which, in turn, generates more production, resulting in lower cost per unit. And you reap the benefit!

Advertising, like the advertising in this newspaper, does a big job in helping to move billions of dollars worth of goods. It also helps to make our standard of living the highest of any place in the world!

'Teen-Age Monsters' Are Pay-Off For Neglect Of Our War Babies

A 16-year-old boy shot a mother and knifed her four babies. The woman had befriended him. Another teen-ager went berserk and ran like a mad dog through several states leaving 11 dead. Another teen-age thrill killer strangled young girls.

What is happening? Why do we have so many incredible teen-age monsters? Can their killings be prevented? I've been trying to find some answers.

We're getting the payoff on the miserable infancy and child hood millions of our present teen-agers experienced. They were war babies. Their parents were too busy for them. They were raised by substitute mothers. They grew up without love and guidance. Some became psychotic, which means insane; others psychopathic, totally lacking in conscience. It is surprising that we don't have more of them.

Can their killings be prevented? No. We'll have more horrid teen-age murders. There are too many abnormal young people to expect anything else. Some of them will break out suddenly with no warning.

Are we still producing potential killers in our homes? Yes, a few. But the percentage is much smaller. Most of our babies are getting better starts in life. We'll have less juvenile delinquency as they get older. We can reduce still further the number of potential killers by establishing good psychiatric clinics for our most abnormal young children. If it comes early enough, the right kind of psychiatric help can work wonders.

(A) Yes, it is. However, there are ways to reduce the decay. See your dentist. Doctors now say some children need sweets. So you'd better see your doctor, too.

SOMETHING NEW FOR MARIN — This three-apartment building, to overhang Racoon Strait in Tiburon, is planned as Marin's first tenant-owned apartment building. Each of the three units is to be sold for $42,500. Sketch is by architect Lloyd Flood.

First Tenant-Owned Apartments Set Here

Marin's first tenant-owned apartments will be built within six months facing Racoon Strait on Paradise drive in Tiburon, David W. Allen of the Belvedere Land Co. announced today.

The land company will be agent for the three-apartment building, which will project over the water.

The apartments, designed by architect Lloyd Flood of San Francisco, will each have 1,925 square feet of floor space and sell for $42,500, Allen said. A concrete ramp will connect the building with Paradise drive and provide offstreet parking for six cars.

White wood grill screening will set off the brown and white wood exterior of the building, which will jut 35 feet into Racoon Strait, set on concrete piers. It will be 55 feet wide, Allen said.

Each apartment will contain three bedrooms, two bathrooms, kitchen, dining and living room combination, utility room and entryway. Each unit will be completely carpeted and have an unobstructed bay view from the living area, Allen said.

The property is owned by Dr. Orazio Rosolia. Building engineers are Preghoff and Mathew of San Francisco. The builder has not been selected yet, Allen said.

If the initial venture in tenant-owned apartments proves successful, other similar buildings may be added in the area, Allen reported.

Californians Lead Nation For Size Local, State Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—California's state and local taxes are heavier than any other state, a Census Bureau report disclosed yesterday.

The taxes figure out to $238 a year for every man, woman and child in California, the report said.

After California, the heaviest per capita tax states were New York, $229; Nevada, $229; Massachusetts, $210, Connecticut, $205, and Oregon, $201.

The bureau's report, based on fiscal 1957, showed Arkansas had the lowest per capita tax load of only $100 a year.

After Arkansas, the states with the lowest per capita taxes were Alabama, $101; South Carolina, $104; Kentucky, $107; Mississippi, $108, and West Virginia, $112.

The census report covered the most comprehensive study of state and local finances since 1942. Detailed information on revenues, spending and debt for the 1957 fiscal year were supplied by more than 100,000 government units below the federal level.

The report said state and local revenues totaled $45,900,000,000 in fiscal 1957, while spending was $47,600,000,000. Both income and outgo were up more than four billion dollars from fiscal 1956.

Debts of state and local governments were $53,200,000,000, which also was up about four billion dollars.

Nevada had the highest per capital general revenue with $358, while South Carolina was low with $149. Nevada also was highest in spending at $368 and Arkansas was low at $148.

S.P. Berated In Hearing On Service Cut

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The State of California joined Oregon yesterday in opposing Southern Pacific's attempt to reduce service on its Shasta Daylight train between San Francisco and Portland.

Oregon has charged in hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission that S.P. is attempting to discourage travelers from using the train by offering poor service.

The railroad proposes to operate the train, now running daily, on a tri-weekly basis during winter months.

DISPUTES LOSS

Clyde T. Neary, one of three California PUC experts who testified yesterday, said S.P. is actually losing only $155,000 a year on the train instead of $1,900,000 as claimed by the railroad. Neary said this net loss is reduced by income tax deductions, leaving the firm with a cash loss of only $72,000 a year on the Daylight operation.

Neary said the train would make money if it were not for a $609,000 yearly loss on its dining car operations. He testified the railroad could make a profit if it wanted to by converting to buffet style or airplane style meal service.

DOUBTS ACCURACY

Edward M. Jennings, PUC transportation engineer, challenged other S.P. figures by testifying that there was "considerable doubt" as to the accuracy of the railroad's maintenance cost accounting. He said S.P. car maintenance figures per mile were 42 per cent higher than a composite figure for three other railroads, and locomotive figures were 30 to 50 per cent higher.

He blamed the railroad's higher locomotive maintenance largely on inefficiency, charging that S.P. was not using modern repair methods in its shops.

A third California witness, Claude Carlock, a PUC staff member, said he had observed numerous defects during trips on the Daylight within the last few weeks that would discourage the traveling public.

Parades Tomorrow To Boost Tam Tax Hike

A double parade, covering north and south sections of the Tamalpais Union High School District, will be held tomorrow morning to urge residents to "vote for education" in the district's special election Tuesday.

The election asks the voters to approve an increase in the general fund school tax rate ceiling from $1.25 to $1.90 for five years.

Howard I. McGill of Tiburon, chairman of the district's board of trustees and of the Citizens Committee for Education, said one parade will begin in Fairfax and will wend its way through San Anselmo, Ross, Kentfield, Larkspur and Corte Madera. It will start at Oak Manor drive and Sir Francis Drake boulevard. Members of the parade will include the Drake High School Pep Band.

Oliver Chambers, Kentfield real estate broker, will direct the parade with assistance of Robert Cumming of Kentfield. All cars will be bedecked with banners.

The parade through the southern half of the district is under direction of Mrs. Benjamin Dreyfus of Mill Valley. It will start at the Tamalpais High School parking lot. The Redwood High School Pep Band will lead the parade through Mill Valley, Belvedere, Tiburon, Marin City and Sausalito.

"Students from all three high schools in the district, Redwood, Drake and Tamalpais, are participating in the parade along with their parents and other interested voters," said McGill.

"All participants are requested to appear at the starting points between 10:30 and 11 a.m.," he said.

Marin Woman Hurt In Waldo Accident

Mrs. Mary Louise Chew, 46, assistant treasurer of Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn in the Mill Valley office, was cut on the forehead early today when her car ran off Highway 101 north of Wald Tunnel, and knocked down an electrolier.

She was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment by a passing motorist. Mrs. Chew, who resides at 325 Montecito drive, Corte Madera, told California Highway Patrol officer Charles Woodworth she was driving home when she fell asleep at the wheel at 2:45 a.m.

Helping Hand

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — Twice thieves have broken into Shaul's filling station here and carried away automobile tires in the station's pickup truck. On both occasions they returned the truck undamaged.

New Time For HAFB Radio Show

"For Immediate Release," a transcribed weekly summary of news events at Hamilton Air Force Base aired as a public service feature over radio station KTIM, moves to a new time tomorrow.

The show will now be heard at 4:15 p.m. on Saturday.

Tomorrow being Valentine Day, base telephone operators are being nominated to "be our valentine" on behalf of base personnel. Mrs. Katherine Brown, chief operator, will be interviewed and accorded an opportunity to give the operator's ideas on telephone usage.

"For Immediate Release" is compiled and recorded by the Office of Information Services, Western Air Defense Force, and is voiced by Major Robert F. Merritt and T/Sgt. Bert Tavender.

Crash Hurts Woman

Mrs. Alice Gloria Martinotti, 35, of 554 Northern avenue, Tamalpais Valley, was slightly injured yesterday when her southbound auto ran off Northern at Maple street and struck a fence owned by J. L. Cooper of 402 Maple. She was treated by a physician, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Parents Club Sets Bolinas Dinner

The Bolinas Parents' Club will have a potluck dinner April 18 at the community center.

President James Dougan said teen-agers would be invited to join in the event which "will be a combination of having fun and fund-raising as well."

A committee of Mrs. Frances Wilkins, Mrs. Joan Carpenter and Mrs. Joyce Huntley has been named to handle arrangements.

Mrs. James Dougan has been designated the club's "sunshine chairman" to keep in touch with those whose families have illnesses.

Members have agreed to aid the Bolinas School District in beautifying the school grounds.

A MORAL OBLIGATION

At 74, He Finishes School So He Can Pay Creditors

NEW YORK (AP)—Chester A. Smith has completed law school at the age of 74—not to gain prestige but to pay back $43,000 he does not legally owe.

Smith, of Peekskill, N. Y., has been official court reporter for many years. At one time he was a member of the board of trustees of a girls' school which closed without paying all its creditors.

Smith took an accelerated course at New York University Law School. He wants to be a lawyer so he can step up his earnings and pay back the $43,000.

He said the girls' school, which he would not name, legally had done all it could before shutting down. But creditors were out of pocket for food and other things.

"Morally," Smith said yesterday, "I felt that the money should be paid. I decided that since no one else would pay the debt, I would do it."

Composer Antheil Dies At 58

NEW YORK (UPI)—George Antheil, 58, noted composer who introduced jazz to the symphony hall and symphonic music to the movies, died last night at his home here.

Anthiel was an innovator who had composed for opera, musical comedy, symphonies, films and television and had many "firsts" to his credit.

One of his last works was a musical entitled "The Happy Journey," scheduled for Broadway production next season.

In 1922, the Berlin Philharmonic gave Antheil's First Symphony its premiere performance. The work included jazz themes never before used in a symphonic work.

Antheil's most controversial work was "Ballet Mecanique." This shocker was scored for xylophones, electric bells, a player piano, airplane propellers, whistles, rattles, two large pieces of tin and sewing machine motors.

Having achieved international attention, Antheil was appointed assistant music director of the Berlin State Theater, the first American to hold this post.

After his return from Germany in 1933, Antheil lived in Hollywood where he was composer for both Paramount and Columbia Studios.

The number of juvenile books sold in the U.S. increased from 54 million in 1947 to 270 million in 1957.

Stamp Issue Honors Lincoln

The first one-cent commemorative stamp issued by the United States in more than a decade went on sale today at post offices in Marin.

The stamp honors the 150th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. First day sale was yesterday at Lincoln's birthplace, Hodgenville, Ky.

The vertical format stamp, printed in dark green, features the famous "Beardless Lincoln" portrait by George Peter Alexander Healy. The Post Office Department authorized an initial printing of 120 million, reported San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams.

Christianity was introduced into Korea in 1777 by Chinese missionaries.

Pier 41 Western Food Good, Too; Trader Horn Gets 'Name' Chef

As you would expect, most of the Polynesian and Cantonese delights of Tiburon Tommie's Pier 41 run the gamut of exotic preparations from chicken, duck, pork and sea foods. What might be considered as exception is listed simply as oyster filet o' beef on the menu.

It is, however, one of the most in demand and consists of sliced filet of tenderloin, seasoned and simmered in oyster sauce, outstanding "tastymony" to chef Johnnie Won's imagination in cooking.

A rather surprising fact is that Johnnie, in spite of specializing in Oriental cuisine is no slouch when it comes to straight American cooking. His steaks are the best ever—something to remember in case you lean more heavily to the West in your tastes.

One of the features of Tiburon Tommie's is the Hawaiian or Tahitian luau. Tommie Cox can take groups of up to 20 or 25 by arrangement—probably many more later on when additional space is added—or will cater this service for larger numbers on your own premises.

Restaurant decorations are cleverly done—thanks to an artist who prefers modesty to keep him name out of the picture. You have to spend a little time studying them to realize just how much advance thought went into the general scheme. Many designs are authentically Maori and Polynesian.

Worth your while to include this spot in one of your dining tours—nothing else like it in Marin County.

TRADER HORN made good his word and signed up a name chef—Manny Burrafato, who's been 24 years with New Joe's in San Francisco. Along with him comes his assistant, Augie Aragone. This is something on the order of restaurants in the East, where a chef takes his whole crew with him when he moves from one place to another.

It is tentatively set for these two to assume command of the kitchen Feb. 25. Look for some outstanding changes—naturally.

NO USE asking the boys at the Alibi Club to remove the holiday decorations.

They postponed it so long someone suggested they let them stay as part of the permanent fixtures. The idea was accepted and Rocky and Jim decided to go it one better. From now on there will be more decorations than ever, celebrating most every holiday on the calendar. More than that, it looks like the name will be changed to "The Todt Boys' Holiday Inn."

Nice little Sunday morning affair at the Alibi Club or Holiday Inn, whatever you want to call it, is their $2 fizz breakfast including the fizz. Jo Ann Benjamin tells me that each week a substantial part of the proceeds will be turned over to some worthy cause. This coming Sunday it will go to Guide Dogs for the Blind.

THE MUSIC BOX has been trying outside catering service just for size. So far they've handled some nice groups of around 250. Results have been so good that Leo Cramer and chef Gene Pah feel it's right up their alley, so they'll continue.

Got 250 friends you feel like entertaining?

New piano player signed up to start here tonight is Bob Cordoza from Berkeley -- formerly a Marin boy.

MAURICE GURIDI wants it known that the pheasants he serves at Pierre's are home grown. He gets them from Gourmet Service in Novato. It's nice to know. Maybe a lot of people wouldn't go there and eat them if they thought the birds weren't from Marin at all but from Yuba County or some place like that.

Unless, of course, they knew how he simmers them in wine after some secret formula of his own which gives them a different taste from other pheasants. Maybe then they wouldn't worry about where they came from. And maybe if he knew that they knew, he wouldn't worry either.

Anyway, I just thought I'd mention it.

BY NOW, nothing in the restaurant game really surprises me. One of the stated theories is that any dinery will do better with cocktail service—at least wines or beer.

Many folks consider a cocktail before dinner, or wine with it, part of the ritual of eating. I enjoy it myself, though with me it's not so important as with some. Aside from that, liquor service is considered good business. The additional income often pays the overhead on off days when the food doesn't.

Yet, one restaurant that refutes the statement you can't get by without it, and consistently shows a credit balance in customers, its the Woodlands in Kentfield. It started out that way and hasn't changed. I doubt if the Mills family ever considered operating it any other way.

You can go by the Woodlands during peak hours or off hours and find it doing a good business.

Now this proves either of two things—that the food is that good, or lots of people don't care about drinking. Personally, I thing it proves both, also that you should never be surprised at anything in the restaurant game.

Of course, it might play you to look into it yourself.

Meeting Slated On Sewage Pact

Final details of a proposed agreement to have the Novato Sanitary District process sewage from Hamilton Air Force Base and nearby housing developments was to be discussed this afternoon by the district and the Air Force.

The district's engineering committee, composed of Al Tresch, manager; J. Warren Nute, engineer, and Harvey Vicchio, director, were to meet with Air Force representatives at the base procurement office.

Utilities Ask Bill Exemption

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Representatives of publicly owned utilities claim there must be exceptions to a proposed bill which would require local governmental agencies to obey city and county building and zoning laws.

Spokesmen for the utilities appealed to the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee yesterday, asking exemption from a bill proposed by Assemblyman William L. Biddick Jr. (D-Stockton).

All local agencies except school districts and offices of state departments would be covered by the bill's jurisdiction.

"There are two reasons why we can't follow strict zoning regulations," said Harold Raines, counsel for the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

"The demand of the people for service and geography.

"We are faced with difficult technical problems different from those of other agencies.

Expensive Habit

NEW YORK (UPI)—Detectives last night arrested a 26-year-old showgirl whom they said admitted having spent $6,000 on narcotics in the last three months.

Carole Michaels, an attractive blonde, told authorities she has been spending $60 a day for narcotics.

Popular Radio Singer Of '30s Now Popular Organist At Sabella's

Old-time radio fans will recall that in the mid-'30s there were popular girl singers on KYA and other stations called "The Saxe Trio."

One of that trio is still in the entertainment field under the name of Monie Mulcahy, presiding at the console of the organ at Sabella's every Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening.

Monie Mulcahy was born Ramona Saxe at 84 Buena Vista avenue in Mill Valley, where she still lives.

PLAYED ORGAN EARLY

"When I was about 12 years old," she recalls, "I played an old type theater organ at Mill Valley's Hub Theater at Throckmorton and Madrona. It is now the Odd Fellows Hall and also houses Frank Pollifrone's tailor shop."

The old theater, she says, was another victim of progress; "George Cooke, who was manager, was sure that 'talkies' were not here to stay. The answer was not long coming. The 'new' Sequoia Theater drove him out of business," she notes.

Her pay for playing the theater organ, she recalls, was 50 cents plus a banana split at Esposti's, which still is in business opposite the old theater.

KNEW EVE ARDEN

Monie went to Park and Old Mill Schools and Tamalpais High School. "It was at Tam that I became a close friend of Eunice Queen who became famous on TV as Eve Arden," she said. "Eve always had the leads in school plays while I played the piano. Her ever-present comment was 'Some day, I'll be famous.'"

As the years wore on, Monie went into radio and became a "regular" on the long established Buddha's Amateur Hour with the late Dean Maddox.

She won a prize on the show and wrote two songs, "Why Haven't I Heard From You?" and "A Busy Little Bee." Neither was published, she confides, but says that plans are now in the works to revive them on a published basis.

WED TO NEWSMAN

Monie later was married to Charles Mulcahy, a San Francisco newsman, and their daughter, Maureen, now is married and the owner of a guest ranch near Wickenburg, Ariz., where she is rearing her two daughters.

"That's where grandma goes to relax," Monie said.

During the war, Monie did extensive entertaining in veterans' hospitals, working with Bill Gwynn, long an active Marin entertainer, now in Hollywood. She also entertained frequently for night shift workers in the shipyards.

It was seven years ago that she was able to get Sabella's to experiment with dinner music. "I even brought my own organ," she said. "Sort of a case of 'have organ, will travel'."

"And I've been here ever since," she notes, "until last November when Angelo Sabella gave me six weeks leave to take a holiday cruise to the orient on the President Wilson. Monie was complimented by the line on her return and asked to take another trip later.

Sometime when you drop in at Sabella's on one of the nights that she is at the console, you'll probably get quick response if you ask her to play "A Busy Little Bee." Try it.

THAT 'oF' IS NO MISTAKE, —IT'S ART

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Notice anything unusual about the new Lincoln penny which came out yesterday?

On the back it reads "UNITED STATES oF AMERICA."

A mistake? The Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco didn't think so.

An inquiry to the Denver, Colo., mint brought this comment from the superintendent, Mrs. Alma Schneider:

"The "o" was made that way—distinguished from the others, all capitalized—"for artistic reasons." No error.

Uniform Building Code Being Asked

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Enactment of a uniform state building code to prevent "the sort of chaos that now exists" was sought here today.

A building standards commission set up by the Legislature six years ago asked approval to correlate the separate construction regulations of 17 separate state agencies.

State Fire Marshal Joe R. Yockers, commission secretary, said a good performance code could prevent such catastrophies as the recent school fire in Chicago.

Yockers said a performance code, as distinct from a specification code, "stresses the goal to be achieved rather than the material to be used and lets the builder do it his own way."

Dental Insurance Program Will Start Next Year

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The secretary of the American Dental Assn. says a national insurance program will be launched next year to take care of dental expenses.

Dr. Harold Hillenbrand of Chicago disclosed at a press conference yesterday that major breakthroughs leading to the proposed dental coverage were the success of water fluoridation and the drawing up of a deductible-type policy

Hillenbrand did not say what company would handle the insurance policies, nor did he elaborate on how the deductible-type coverage would work.

Will Jimmy Get Star?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) won't say yet whether she will again oppose giving a general's star to film actor Jimmy Stewart. She said she wants to check his training record again.

She contended two years ago that Stewart, a World War II combat pilot, had not kept up with training required of most reservists. Her objection was largely responsible for blocking Senate confirmation of Stewart's promotion from colonel to brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.

President Eisenhower renewed Stewart's nomination yesterday.

San Rafael 20-30 Seeking Members

The San Rafael 20-30 Club, made up of young business and professional men, is taking applications for new members, announced president Bob Woodley.

The club's twin objectives are to render service and build better communities, he said. It is part of an international organization.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing to Mickey Rebichaud, San Rafael 20-30 Club, Post Office Box 66, San Rafael. An applicant must be between the ages of 20 and 35, be considered a success in his line of work, and be of good moral habits and character, Woodley said.

Boy Dies In Cave-In

FRESNO (UPI)—A 15-year-old Clovis High School student suffocated last night in the cave-in of a tunnel he was digging in the backyard of the family home here.

The boy, Lloyd George Stillwell Jr., was buried under about five feet of dirt. He was uncovered by his father who dug for more than two hours after discovering the cave-in.

The father told sheriff's investigators his son originally had dug a hole about five feet deep to bury grass clippings. He said the boy later decided to make the tunnel.

CHARGED IN ICE-PICK SLAYING

Edward Swainson, 14, grimaces and covers his eyes as he is taken to Philadelphia Youth Study Center last night to be charged with murder after police said he admitted killing his grandmother with an ice-pick. The woman, Mrs. Mary Swainson, 82, was first thought to have died of natural causes. Stab wounds found by an undertaker led to the boy's arrest. According to police, the youth admitted stabbing grandmother during an argument last Tuesday. Accompanying him is Mrs. Marie McKnight (left) a neighbor and friend of his mother. (AP Wirephoto)

Juke Box Men Fear Mobsters, Probe Told

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New York juke box operators told the Senate Rackets Committee today they "are frantically in need of help" to fight off gangster-union control of their business.

Albert Denver, president of the Music Operators Assn., testified his group has been subjected "to every conceivable form of intimidation and pressure" from the mobsters.

"The situation has been intolerable," he said.

Denver testified amid signs that the underworld is feeling the heat of the committee's expose of juke box racketeering.

Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy reported that the syndicate two nights ago picked up all of its pinball and other game machines in the Lake County, Ind., area.

Kennedy said this region is "one of the most critical areas" and staff investigators have been studying it for several months.

Shortly after public hearings began this week, Kennedy said, the syndicate made the rounds of taverns and other places in and around Gary, Ind., picked up more than 1,000 machines and moved them to warehouses.

He indicated that some of the machines were of the gambling type which the committee inspected earlier this week.

Kennedy also read into the record the names of 10 delegates to the 1958 Mafia "underground convention" at Apalachin, N. Y., who have been identified as associated with the coin machine business.

Denver told the committee that members of his association "are not gangsters or gangster-controlled" but are attempting to oust undesirables from the industry.

He denied the association had tried "to monopolize the industry or to allocate territory." After "many horrible experiences" with labor unions, he said, the association is now contracting with a reputable local of the Retail Clerks Union.

Colleges Woo Industry

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A West Virginia college president said yesterday that many small colleges are being forced to close because of the failure of private industry to give them financial support.

Duane Hurley, head of Salem College and president of the Council for Advancement of Small Colleges, made his comment during a meeting here. The council, consisting of 68 colleges with an average enrollment of 400 students, has launched a program aimed at receiving support from private industry.

Natchez Boy's Sight Improves

NATCHEZ, Miss. (UPI) — Because a newspaper story caught the eye of a man in Utah, little Hugh Thornhill moved about his home with slowly improving vision and steadily increased confidence today.

A month ago today, 7-year-old Hugh was to have lost his one remaining eye because of the progressive ravages of glaucoma. The disease already had forced removal of the other eye.

But the day before Hugh (nicknamed Buddy) was to have gone to a hospital for removal of the eye, Col. Caleb Shreve picked up the newspaper at his home in Ogden, Utah, and read a United Press International dispatch about the boy's plight.

SENT WIRE

Shreve promptly got off a wire to Natchez Mayor Troy Watkins. His grandchild had been in a similar situation, Shreve said—but a specialist in San Francisco had been able to save his sight.

The word went out, and citizens of Natchez began raising money. A prisoner at the Mississippi State Prison mailed a hand-made leather purse to Natchez police with orders to sell it and add proceeds to the fund. (It brought $25.)

So Hugh and his mother, Mrs. Louis A. Thornhill, boarded a plane and flew to San Francisco, where quarters had been provided for them.

BELVEDERE DOCTOR

On Hugh's seventh birthday, he was taken to the specialist, Dr. William Ferguson (a resident of Belvedere), who announced after examining the eye that there was a good chance it could be saved.

An operation was not considered necessary by Dr. Ferguson and the boy responded to medical treatment. After a brief recuperative period Hugh and his mother returned to Natchez. And now light is beginning to come back into Hugh's life.

Only one thing stands in the way of clear vision for Hugh, according to doctors. That is a cataract which, if it is not absorbed as the eye heals, will require Hugh's return to the West Coast for corrective surgery.

Baby Goes For Ride

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. Henrietta Graves left her automobile engine running yesterday when she stopped for an errand. She also left her 17-month-old daughter, Layra, on the seat.

But Layra didn't stay there. She crawled to the floor, pressed the accelerator and the car lurched forward, smashing the wall of a motel.

Damage: a lump on Layra's head, $1,500 to the motel and $250 to the car.

Engle Urges Bonneville, CVP Hookup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) today revived a proposal for federal construction of transmission lines to connect the power systems of the Pacific Northwest and California.

He asked Chairman James E. Murray (D-Mont.) of the Senate Interior Committee to schedule a public hearing to assure a satisfactory tie-in.

Engle said he was prompted by newspaper accounts of meetings between Bonneville Power Administration officials and the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. on interconnection possibilities. PG&E is the largest power distributor in Northern California.

"I'm afraid that these present negotiations will lead to a pint-sized transmission line to do a man-sized job," Engle said.

In a letter to Murray, Engle recalled that federal engineering studies a few years ago showed the feasibility of building two 230-kilovolt lines between Bonneville and the Central Valley Project in California.

Engle said there are billions of kilowatt-hours of off-peak electric energy going to waste in the Pacific Northwest which could be used in California.

Shots Fired At Two Youngsters

Two older boys shot .22 caliber pistols at two Greenbrae youngsters, aged 11 and 12, the mother of one of the younger boys told the sheriff's office yesterday.

Mrs. Nancy Tubbs of 25 Corte Lodato said her son Christ, and a 12-year-old companion were playing near a creek behind Bon Air Market. Two older boys, about 15, appeared on a hill behind them and ordered them to get out. They then fired.

The youngsters ran home and told their parents.

Sheriff's Deputy Ed Levine checked the area for the gun toters without success. He notified the Larkspur Police Department because the incident occurred in Larkspur jurisdiction.

West German Doctors Fear 'British-Type' Socialized Medicine

The practice of medicine in West Germany today is a combination of socialized medicine and private practice, but the doctors there fear "British-type" socialized medicine as much as American doctors do.

That was the report last night of Dr. Robert Combs, associate professor of surgery at University of California Hospital and immediate past president of the San Francisco Medical Society. He was speaking at the monthly dinner meeting of the Marin Medical Society in the Meadow Club, Fairfax.

GOVERNMENT GUEST

Dr. Combs made a tour of West German medical facilities last November as a guest of the Bonn government.

In Germany between 80 and 85 per cent of the residents have compulsory prepaid health insurance "and they didn't seem as unhappy about it as we might have hoped they would be," he reported.

For each 400 persons in the socialized system there is one physician. A physician cannot treat any of the persons so enrolled unless he is on an approved panel of doctors. Therefore, Dr. Combs pointed out, there is great competition to get on the panels. Competition is so keen that a doctor usually is 40 years old before he can be accepted.

EARLY STRUGGLE

In the meantime, he has had a tough time trying to make a living in general practice. In addition, doctors in private practice must pay portions of their fees, in amounts varying from 20 to 40 per cent, to hospitals in which they treat their patients.

They fear the British system, said Dr. Combs, because under it the patient is assigned to a doctor rather than having free choice, eliminating the incentive of competition.

PROFESSOR SYSTEM

Each hospital is directed by a "professor" and these "professors have it made," Dr. Combs declared. Not only do they get salaries from the hospitals, but in addition they get fees from the doctors for use of hospital beds and they can treat their own patients in the hospital.

As a result, professorships are in great demand both for prestige and financial reasons.

The school system for the West Germans, about 51 million persons in an area about the size of Oregon, starts with four years of general schooling for children, starting at the age of 6. Then a decision is made whether the child is going ahead with a college education or going to trade school. If college, he goes to the gymnasium for eight years, ending with roughly our high school education, "although they believe their youth are better educated."

MEDICAL TRAINING

If he is going into medicine, which any gymnasium graduate has a right to do, he gets 1½ years of pre-medical training, then 2½ years of clinical sciences followed by six months of examinations. If he passes these, he is ready for two years of internship and then takes his state board examinations.

A main difference in the medical education system in Germany is that there a student does not take his training all at one college. He can move from one college to another of the 18 medical schools to get training from the professors he desires.

The result is that some professors have huge classes, "as many as 1,000 students in a class in pathology, as an example." The students pay a fee to the professor in charge of the class, so the teachers do not object to big classes.

German medical men, however, are beginning to recognize the lack of contact between teacher and pupil in this arrangement, Dr. Combs said.

DESTRUCTION REPAIRED

The speaker said much of the World War II destruction of hospitals and research facilities in the country has been repaired, although there is still much to do. The shortage of interns and nurses is as acute there as it is here and for the same reasons, he declared.

Dr. Combs touched briefly on the West German political situation, warning that in East Germany a new generation is being oriented to communism and that if an election can be held off long enough, "they may get a communist vote out of it."

Dr. Rolla B. Hess, society president, presided at the meeting. Dr. Dallas L. Wagner, president-elect, was program chairman.

Second Fire Phone

The main Novato fire station will be equipped with a second emergency telephone, it was decided by fire district commissioners last night after they learned that the station's only fire phone had been temporarily out of order Wednesday.

Trustees Advance Date Of Meeting

Trustees of Mill Valley School District will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at Alto School, a week earlier than their normal meeting date, according to Supt. G. R. McConnell. Reason for the change is to avoid meeting on Feb. 23, a school holiday.

Agenda items include reports on testing results by Logan T. Miles and a continuation of the board's discussion of educational philosophy.

Caracas Tense On Inauguration Day

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Troops and police stood guard today against the threats of Communists and rightists to disrupt the austerity inauguration of President Romulo Betancourt.

Betancourt, 50, a moderate leftist and political veteran, is Venezuela's first freely elected president in 10 years. The leader of the Democratic Action Party, he is opposed by supporters of ousted dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez, Caracans who voted heavily for the leader of the junta which replaced Perez Jimenez, and the Reds.

Intelligence agents said the oposition planned street disorders during the inauguration, with women dressed in black to block traffic around the capitol while demonstrators denounced the president.

The newspaper Pregon said free liquor was distributed in a big working class neighborhood to get gangs of youths drunk so they would roam the streets and cause trouble.

A demonstration reportedly arranged for midnight in the central El Silencio district of Caracas did not come off, however. Streets in the area were practically deserted. The district was the site of battles between police and rioters Tuesday night.

SIMPLE CEREMONIES

Betancourt ordered the inaugural ceremonies kept simple because of the legacy of unemployment and poverty from the ousted dictatorship. He dispensed with the usual parade, grand ball and banquet.

The most elaborate event was a formal reception last night at the Foreign Ministry for foreign delegates to the inaugural.

Betancourt made plain that he would not rush ahead with the proposals by leftist and nationalistic elements that the foreign operators of the oil industry give Venezuela a much larger share of the profits.

NO SUDDEN DECREES

"There will be no sudden decrees," he told the Caracas Journal, in an obvious reference to the outgoing junta's sudden 10 per cent increase in the income tax in December without prior consultation with the U.S., British and Dutch oil companies.

A youthful Communist who long ago turned his back on the party, Betancourt has spent more than 20 years off and on in exile. He was provisional president in 1945-48 after the overthrow of Gen. Isaias Medina.

In the presidential election last December he rolled up a huge vote in the provinces to defeat Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal, the former head of the junta.

Bridges Has Praise For Russ Unions

MOSCOW (UPI)—West Coast dock union leader Harry Bridges said here that Soviet trade union elections are "more democratic than many American ones."

"I have studied the activities of the Russian All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions and 23 trade unions and have come to the conclusion that the organization and system of elections in Soviet trade unions are democratic. In this respect Soviet trade unions are more democratic than many American ones," he told the newspaper Trud in an interview published today.

Australian-born Bridges and his assistant, William Glazier, spent a week in Russia as guests of Soviet trade unions.

Mother Of Two Vanishes From San Rafael Home

A 31-year-old San Rafael waitress, mother of two girls aged 17 months and 6 years, vanished from her home two Sundays ago, her husband reported to San Rafael police yesterday.

Georgina Florence Mindzaks, who worked for three months at the Griddle in San Rafael, left a note in the family car on Feb. 1, saying she was going to Reno with "June" and would write when she got there.

Michael Mindzak of 212 Woodland avenue, who works in the general construction department of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., said his wife took most of her clothes.

She is 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighs 110 pounds, has brown reddish hair, and wore a brown tweed suit. Mindzak told police he has hired a babysitter to look after the children while he works.

Dog Chews Coat Off Stinson Visitor

A large brown dog chewed the coat off the back of a visitor at Stinson Beach last evening, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Park rangers identified the victim as Lapley M. McAfee of Palo Alto. McAfee said he and his son were walking along the beach when the dog grabbed his coat and hung on. He could not get the dog to let go and had to remove his coat to get away.

The coat lining was torn and the coat ripped in about five places. McAfee said the animal wore license tags, but he was afraid to get close enough to inspect them for identification.

Canada Pilot Tells Of Russ Radio 'Trap'

SARNIA, Ontario (AP) — A former Royal Canadian Air Force ferry pilot said today his Sabre Jet and three others were almost diverted into a North Atlantic grave two and one-half years ago by a radio signal apparently coming from a Soviet ship.

The report has been circulating in Canada for several days. Defense Minister George Pearkes told a questioner in the House of Commons yesterday he was unable to confirm the report.

The pilot, Kenneth V. Hagarty of Sarnia, said in an interview he was at the controls of one of the planes following a radio beam into Kinloss Scotland, when a new and stronger radio signal was superimposed on the beam.

The signal came from a different direction, he said, and nearly sent the whole flight winging north into the arctic.

The Sabres are short-range planes and transatlantic flights are worked out carefully.

The Sabres did not alter course and were able to distinguish enough of the Kinloss signal to complete the flight without trouble, he said, and the pilots were told not to mention the incident.

Hagarty said it was overcast and the pilots could see nothing below, but the Royal Air Force later sent out scout planes which sighted what they described as "foreign" ships in the area.

U.S.-Russian Culture Swap Pleases Both

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union have successfully carried out two-thirds of their big cultural exchange agreement without a major hitch.

This historic agreement, signed about a year ago, is working so well that both sides are considering extending it when it expires next January.

A summary shows that more than 1,500 Soviet citizens and Americans have visited each other's country as part of 151 official delegations during the first 12 months.

PRIVATE TOURISTS

The swap of delegates has started a flow of private tourists. About 5,000 Americans visited the Soviet Union in the first year after the agreement. In return, 66 Soviet tourists, the first to visit this country since World War II, arrived late last year.

Ambassador William Lacy, who negotiated the agreement with the Soviets after months of talks, said today the agreement has been a rousing success from an American standpoint.

BETTER PICTURE

"A more balanced picture of America is now being brought openly to Soviet citizens who have previously been subjected only to Communist propaganda which portrayed America as culturally and spiritually sterile," he said.

More Americans than Soviets have been involved in exchanges thus far, but this is due primarily to a Soviet delay in arranging reciprocal tours of the United States.

Statistics compiled thus far disclosed that 952 Americans, included in 81 separate projects, visited the U.S.S.R. during the first year.

In return, 565 Soviets came to the United States as part of 70 delegations.

Both the Soviet Union and the United States have shown the keenest interest in swapping experts in industrial fields. Forty-six Soviet industrial delegations have toured the United States while 40 American groups visited the Soviet Union. This swap included experts on steel, plastics, chemistry, electronics, electric power and engineering.

SOUTH KOREA BREAKS OFF TALKS WITH JAPANESE

'Drastic' Action Threatened In Dispute On Repatriation

TOKYO (UPI)—The Republic of Korea broke off negotiations aimed at establishing normal relations with Japan in a rapid-fire reaction today to Japanese cabinet endorsement of a plan to repatriate Korean residents in Japan to Communist North Korea.

Yiu Tai Hai, ROK minister to Tokyo, informed Japanese Vice Foreign Minister Hisanari Yamada that the Seoul government considered the talks "ruptured."

The Japanese cabinet endorsement of Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama's repatriation plans came in spite of stiff warnings of possible consequences by South Korea.

In Seoul, a government spokesman said South Korea will resort to "any and every drastic measure" to frustrate the repatriation plans. Foreign Minister Cho Chung Whan said his government will take "whatever cost and whatever necessary action."

"The Japanese government must be warned that Korea will have to pursue its own interests and that of the unfortunate people Japan is using so cruelly," Cho said in a statement issued after an emergency meeting of the Korean cabinet.

He did not say what action was planned. But the ROK defense Ministry said naval and air forces are ready to go into action "at any time."

Fujiyama's plan falls for the repatriation to Communist Korea of those Koreans who want to go there. There are some 600,000 Koreans resident in Japan. Estimates on the number who want repatriation to Red Korea range from 1,000 to a Communist Korean figure of 117,000.

Japanese government sources stressed the cabinet endorsement was not considered a "formal government decision." It was noted that in an apparent attempt to soften the blow the action was termed an "understanding" of Fujiyama's repatriation policy.

Korea has insisted that Japan agreed that the question of Korean residents in Japan should be discussed at the diplomatic talks. It claimed that Japan agreed to this point in formal written agreements.

132 Reported Killed In Iraq Civil Clashes

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The Syrian press reported today that 132 Iraqis were killed and hundreds injured in new clashes between Pan-Arab Nationalist and Communist supporters of Maj. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem's newly reshuffled Baghdad government.

Damascus newspapers said the clashes occurred in Mosul, Iraq's main northern city, and in Basra and Karbala in the south.

Napal Receives Ist Constitution

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—King Mahendra proclaimed a democratic constitution for Nepal yeserday, the first in history for the eight and one-half million people of the Himalayan kingdom sandwiched between India and Red-ruled Tibet.

Patterned on the British system, the constitution provides for a constitutional monarchy with a two-house parliament, an independent judiciary and a cabinet responsible to the lower house. It also establishes a sort of privy council, called the Rashtriya Parishad, to provide a regency during the minority of a monarch or when the king is otherwise unable to govern.

Embargo Put On Copper To Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has slapped a new embargo on copper shipments to Russia and other Iron Curtain countries.

The Commerce Department announced yesterday it was placing 33 copper and copper-base alloy items on its embargo list as of Feb. 20. The list contains strategic items which cannot be exported without specific approval from the department. This is usually denied to Communist nations.

The department's action came just three months after the United States lifted embargo restrictions on some 800 items, including copper. The move apparently was the result of an excessive demand for copper from the Soviet Union.

2 Die, 4 Lost As Tug Sinks

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI)—An American tug with a crew of seven sank in the Strait of George off Vancouver Island early today and at least two members of the crew were known to be dead.

Only one survivor had been picked up by 10 a.m. The Canadian Rescue Coordination Center here said search for the other four crew members was being conducted near Salt Springs Island by air and water craft.

The tug, Henry Foss, owned by the Foss Tug and Barge Co., Seattle, was heading north from Port Angeles, Wash., when apparently she hit a rock during a gale with winds up to 70 miles per hour.

STILL MORE TAXES

In the face of stiff increases in Federal, state and local taxes we must resist every demand for unnecessary tax increases. The Tamalpais Union High School tax increase is absolutely unwarranted because:

1. The district expenditures have risen from $331 per pupil in 1947-48 to $758 last year—an increase of 129% in 10 years.

2. In 10 years the number of pupils in the schools has increased about 97% while the total expenditures (not including capital items) has increased 349%. The recent new property appraisals increased the tax base to $113,946,000—178% above the base of 10 years ago.

3. In 1956-57, the latest year for which published figures are available, Tam Union teachers' salaries were $346 per pupil—the highest cost of any of the 54 comparable schools in the state.

4. Basic education is being neglected and taxpayers' money is being wasted on frill courses such as Costume Illustration, Cartooning, Art Metal and Jewelry, Homemaking, Family life, Personal grooming, Work experience, Driver training and many others. These courses divert pupils' attention from academic subjects, necessitating summer sessions and remedial courses.

5. The propaganda being published by the school trustees and proponents of this staggering tax increase is slanted to confuse and deceive taxpayers and pupils. The necessity of their employment of professional talent should warn taxpayers that they are being fooled.

6. We are told that Tam Union students rank among the top 1% in the nation in the Iowa tests. Ask your schools if these tests really measure academic achievements and have them explain the meaning of "percentile" ratings. You may then learn why, according to a teacher at Marin Junior College, "year after year more than ¾ of the freshmen entering Marin College fail the entrance examinations in English and have to take remedial courses."

Don't sign a blank check.

Marin YMCA's Bill Goes To Mock Assembly

By CAROL DELL'ERA

SACRAMENTO—Marin's bill in the YMCA Model Legislature cleared committee this morning by a 9-4 vote and was sent to the Assembly. There was no indication when it will come up for debate there.

The Model Legislature, with teen-age members from throughout the state, opened with meetings at 9 a.m. today, followed by committee sessions. Assembly and Senate will meet all day tomorrow.

The Marin bill calls for a 65-mile absolute speed limit on state highways, to replace the present law under which speed in excess of 55 miles per hour may be considered prima facie evidence of unsafe driving.

Marin's delegates include Chuck Bailey, Frank Barley, Earl Burns, Carol Dell'Era, Lee Goldblatt, Kathy Kuehn, Mary Leech, Rich Rowe, Ann Royle, Lynn Royle, Terry Wade and Pam West.

Chinese Youth Elected Governor Of YMCA's Model Legislature

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A thoughtful, soft-spoken young San Franciscan will be California's "governor" this weekend.

Donald Jin, 16, will be chief executive during the 11th Annual California YMCA Model Legislature, today through Sunday.

Don, of Chinese descent, is the first member of a minority race to be elected youth governor. Son of an electrician, he plans to study engineering.

He feels the youngsters who rule California for three days have an important obligation.

"We have a duty to learn all we can while we're in Sacramento and pass what we learn to students all over the state," he said.

On the matter of the death penalty, a hot issue in California this year, Governor Jin admitted:

"I wouldn't like to be in the position of deciding life or death."

Such legislation may come before him in the junior government.

Lt. Gov. Charles Mitchell, 17, son of a Santa Ana elementary school principal, made no bones about what he considers the state's prime problem.

"Water for the South," he declared. "We have to do something to help the dry southern regions."

The Assembly speaker of the model legislature will be 17-year-old James Shanklin of Vallejo.

It'll be a big moment for Jim who plans to study law and run for the Assembly for real.

Like the others, he has no party preference. "I'll vote for the man for the job, regardless of party," said Jim. His dad is a municipal employee in Vallejo.

A voracious reader of political news, Jim has kept scrapbooks on the current Legislature.

He cherishes letters he's received from Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Ralph Brown (D-Modesto), the real speaker of the Assembly.

"I can't wait to meet them in person," Jim said.

Governor Brown is scheduled to welcome the youth administration today.

Tighter State Control On Radiation Sought

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's controls over atomic radiation are "grossly inadequate," an Assembly committee reported yesterday.

It proposed immediate legislation to set up a statewide program to register, monitor and inspect all atomic installations.

The program would be headed by a full-time coordinator in the governor's office, assisted by a coordinating committee and an advisory council.

The report by the Assembly Subcommittee on Air Pollution and Radiation Protection, headed by Seth J. Johnson (R Los Angeles), was the result of a two-year study.

The committee heard expert witnesses warn that radiation hazards must be controlled before harmful effects are apparent, else it will be too late.

"The risks are not yet fully known," the committee said.

"All radiation is harmful from a genetic point of view. It is not known whether or not there is a safe or threshold level below which radiation is not harmful from a somatic health point of view.

"In light of this, the state program must be directed towards protecting the public from all unnecessary exposure to radiation."

The committee noted that California already has a large share of the nation's atomic installations and that they are rapidly increasing.

It said there are 32 licensed reactors in California, more than any other state. Atomic energy is used in practically every industry, in agricultural research, in medicine and in power production.

The committee said this atomic development should be fostered by the state, but at the same time the government should protect the people from radiation.

Johnson introduced a resolution calling on the federal government to define the state's authority in atomic matters. The committee said the majority of radiation sources in California are not under jurisdiction of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Man Spends 4 Days In Wreck With Dead Wife

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—A suburban businessman-pilot returned here last night from four days of sub-zero cold and terror beside his dead wife in the cabin of their wrecked airplane.

During the ordeal, Lonnie Worth set his own broken nose while keeping a tragic vigil over the body of his wife.

Worth, 49, a Robbinsdale, Minn., nursing home operator, told how he shivered through 25-degree-below-zero cold after the plane cracked up Sunday on the ice of frozen Leech Lake, 85 miles below the Canadian border.

Worth's wife, 49, died hours later of injuries suffered in the crash. But Worth came through with nothing worse than the broken nose, a black eye and a sore chest.

He told rescuers he set his nose himself using the mirror in the airplane's cabin.

Worth said they were returning Sunday from an ice-fishing trip when they became lost in a blizzard and tried to land the ski-plane on Leech Lake. The landing gear collapsed, a wing crumpled and Mrs. Worth was thrown out.

put her in the cabin of the plane and set out for shore.

There he broke into a cabin, but was trapped there during an all-night blizzard.

When he returned in the morning, his wife was dead from her injuries and the cold.

The next four days were spent in a frozen hell as Worth stayed beside his wife's body through the daylight hours and trekked back to his cabin refuge at nightfall.

He took an old bedstead and a flag from the cabin and spread them on the ice to attract search planes.

But, back in Robbinsdale, the couple's three children, Melvern, 21, Marlene, 18, and Rosemary, 16, waited unconcerned because their parents often stayed over a couple of days on fishing trips.

It wasn't until Tuesday evening they notified authorities. The search began Wednesday morning.

Civil Air Patrol planes spotted Worth's signal late yesterday and a helicopter set down to rescue the shivering businessman.

Corte Madera Woman Hurt In Hub Crash

Mrs. Gwendolyn Hartnack, 46, of 26 Harbor drive, Corte Madera, suffered a whiplash neck injury and a strained back yesterday when the car in which she was riding was struck by a pickup truck in San Anselmo.

The accident happened at 2:09 p.m. in front of 209 Butterfield road. Mrs. Hartnack was in a southbound auto driven by her daughter, Judith, 18, a College of Marin student. The pickup, northbound, was driven by Louis Wayne Huffstutter, 17, of 2 Westbrae drive, Fairfax, a student at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Huffstutter told police he saw three horses with riders and slowed to avoid frightening the animals. The youth said he glanced at the riders briefly, then looked back on the road and saw a "men working" sign directly ahead. He swerved across the center line and hit the oncoming Hartnack car, police reported.

Mrs. Hartnack was treated at Ross General Hospital. Huffstutter was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road.

West Marin Voters Show Way For Tam Tax Election

Are we unwittingly turning our backs on a great American ideal?

Probably not; but it is barely possible that we are. And this possibility is what concerns us.

A firmly established American ideal is that we should try to provide universal public education for our youth, insuring that they will be equipped to carry on our form of representative self-government.

We know that the success of our self-government depends more than anything else on an enlightened citizenry.

Without an educated citizenry that can read, write, reason and understand, our freedom of press, freedom of speech and freedom of petition are not enough to insure success.

And we know that our public education system is the very foundation of an enlightened system.

When we neglect to concern ourselves with our schools, to inform ourselves with factual information, we are in a sense turning our backs on the great American ideal of providing appropriate educational opportunity for all.

The most fundamentally important responsibility that parents have on this earth is raising their children. One of the most important responsibilities we citizens have is to provide adequate educational opportunities for all our youth.

Most current criticism of our schools is based on misunderstanding, erroneous belief or complete lack of information. Conversely, people who know the most about our schools are their strongest supporters.

Nobody we know wants to be among the uninformed. It's quite probable that people who are uninformed don't realize it.

But we sometimes wonder if the bulk of opposition to school finance measures stems from misunderstanding, erroneous belief or lack of information.

Happily, the West Marin School District did NOT suffer from any such state of affairs this week. Voters there went to the polls Tuesday to approve both a tax rate increase and a substantial bond issue for school improvement.

Let us hope the same thing happens when Tamalpais High School District voters go to the polls next Tuesday.

Let us hope that our American ideal of providing the best possible education for all our youth gets a similar expression of public support, with a resounding YES victory for the Tam tax increase proposition.

Lucas Valley Beautiful Now

Every year about this time we make it a point to drive out to Nicasio, then back to San Rafael on the road through Lucas Valley. We made the trip last Sunday and, as usual, we were glad we did.

We parked for a moment or two on the hill overlooking the verdant valley. Spread out in beauty below us was a lavish symphony of greens. The many trees of the valley floor made a subtle contrast with the rich grass green of the rolling, convoluted hills. As anyone who has ever witnessed this pastoral scene at this time of year knows, it is unforgettable.

We do not wish our message to be lost in a mess of flowery adjectives. Please don't take our word for it. We'd rather that you'd go and see for yourself. Small wonder that some well traveled people say they've never seen anything to equal Lucas Valley in early spring.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

YOU MAKE THE CHOICE

"If any individual wants to be careless with his property—for example, wants to leave his pocket-book in the street, that is his legal right to do so."

Such was the opinion of a city judge in Corning, N. Y., when he dismissed a case against a driver who left his car unlocked with the keys inside.

The judge ruled that the State law, making it illegal to leave ignition keys in unattended automobiles was unconstitutional. The law is intended to discourage auto theft.

Apart from the legal angles involved, God allows every individual wide latitude in setting his own behavior. He can save his money or throw it away; protect his health or abuse it; help people or deprive them of the assistance he should share with them.

But while the Lord leaves us free to serve or deny Him, to choose good or evil, we should never forget that the choice is always ours. In short, each of us decides for himself what his fate will be for time and eternity.

"Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life." (John 6:69)

Keep me ever reminded, O Holy Spirit, of the responsibility that accompanies every choice I make.

There's Room For Sentiment In Business, If It's Used Wisely

NEW YORK (AP) — Abner Joggle, president of the Acme Tiddlyworks Co., liked to open his own mail.

Riffling through a stack he came to an unusual letter. Unstamped, it merely bore a typed greeting: "To the nicest guy in the world."

Joggle opened the missive and found therein a small card adorned with crimson hearts and the following jingle:

"Roses are red, and violets are blue.

"You are our Valentine, Boss, we love you!"

The card was unsigned. Beaming with pleasure, Joggle handed it to Eloise Phleeb, his secretary.

"Did you send it?" asked Joggle.

"Me?" Miss Phleeb appeared horrified at the mere idea.

"You know, it's the first real Valentine I've received since I was in kindergarten," said Joggle.

"Who sent you one then?" inquired Miss Phleeb — and could have bitten off her tongue. She hadn't meant to say that. Pretending not to notice her discomfiture, Joggle said amiably: "Well, I sure do appreciate this card. I wonder if you could circulate it around the office and find out who is responsible for it."

Dutifully, Eloise took the card and canvassed the office. The reactions ranged from startled wonder to outright indignation. Everyone denied sending the card.

Shortly before quitting time the entire office staff was summoned. As each one entered, he was handed a one-pound heart-shaped box of candy.

IN DAZED SILENCE they listened as Joggle arose and said: "Someone really touched my heart this morning with an unexpected gesture of remembrance. But I want you to know the feeling expressed was mutual.

"The box of candy you have been handed is for your wife or sweetheart. But the $10 bonus each of you will receive on your next paycheck is my Valentine to you. Thank you one and all."

That night at dinner Joggle recounted the incidents of the day to his wife.

"I wonder who really sent you the Valentine?" she said.

"I SENT IT myself," replied Joggle, "just so I'd have an excuse to give them the candy and the bonus."

Mrs. Joggle's mind reeled.

"Now I've got the whole office staff off balance," said Joggle cheerfully. "They're so puzzled it'll be six months before one of them will get up the courage to ask for a raise.

"I always did say there was room for sentiment in business — if you know how to use it!"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Who's Telling The Truth?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Who's telling the truth about the Tamalpais Union High School District tax increase election on Feb. 17? Look at the record:

On Feb. 4, the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. named Tom McDougall of Mill Valley "to speak on all occasions in opposition" to the election, according to The Independent-Journal of that date.

On Feb. 9, it was publicly announced that a debate would be held at a meeting of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs. Robert Rogers, William B. Lewis and Delman D. Smith were present, for the Citizens Committee for Education, to speak as proponents, on the invitation of the federation's president, Arthur K. Smart. Each side was to have 15 minutes.

But the opponents failed to appear. Ahead of time, Mr. Smart had identified them (to the proponents) as "representatives of the taxpayers association."

On Feb. 11, the Independent-Journal carried an ad which said, in part, "We welcome debate, but the 'Blue Ribbon Committee' refused our challenge to accept."

The ad was signed by Tom McDougall, who has made many, many statements about the facts of the election.

Who's telling the truth—the Citizens Committee for Education, or Tom McDougall?

We Can Afford Good Schools Now

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Okay, I've read all the well rounded phrases of the propaganda in favor of the increased school tax. Now let's analyze some of them. Quoting from your article of Feb. 5—Report On Tam School District.

1. Can we afford to maintain good schools? Yes, we can. GOOD schools, that is. Not the current tangle of frill courses that entwine and almost obliterate the solid pillars of the Three R's.

2. Can we afford to scrimp when our high school graduates are facing stiffer than ever college entrance requirements? Brother, we're scrimping right now — on EDUCATION! Let's re-evaluate the whole school program and lop off the dead wood. There's a thundering good chance we'd not only stay within our PRESENT budget, but give the students a solid foundation as well.

3. Can we afford to turn out inadequately trained 'leaders of tomorrow' in the precarious world of today? Do we dare? Apparently we dare, because that's exactly what we're doing right now. Time we woke up to the fact that the gravy-train days of alleged 'progressive' education are over. They have been weighed in the balance and found wanting, along with the so-called educators who smooth-talk the long-suffering parents.

4. School tax is about the only tax rate hard-pressed voters can control. Yipes and double yipes! Isn't this still the U.S.A.? Can't we control ANY tax we choose to control? That's what the children are being taught in school, so why not turn theory into practice? A taxpayer can tell ANY official — county, state or federal — just what his wishes are in regard to ANY tax. When we give officials the job of making our laws, it's up to us to TELL them how we want the job done.

The Conant report, while a step in the right direction, is not sufficient. The students need more 'solids,' less electives. Am always amused, wryly, by the recurring phrase "physical education — required by state law." So what? If we wish to use the five high school periods per week per student for a solid course, and relegate physical activities to after school time, we can certainly change that law. All it takes is pen, paper and a 4c stamp.

I realize it's unfair to aim all the guns at the high school programs. The whole sorry mess originates in the grade schools. The upper schools do the best they can with what is handed up to them. Any mother will tell you that a 4-year-old child is the most eager to learn creature on the face of the globe. Why then do we throttle this eagerness to learn at age six in the first grade? Give them something they can get their teeth into in the early grades!

And while we're at it — read some of the text books in current use in all grades. Badly written, unorganized, with little scraps of information drowning in a soup of meandering words. Students have a hard time dredging up the facts.

I'll support a good, solid school program — but not the present sham. So I'm voting NO on the school tax.

Back In Winnetka The Same Trouble

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The quote below, taken from the Citizens' Committee on Salary Schedules, Winnetka (Illinois) Public Schools, 1958, is equally pertinent here, and points up the need to support the tax rate election in the Tamalpais Union High School District next week, since a large portion of the increase is to be for the purpose of upgrading teachers' salaries:

"Up to this time, the reputation of the . . . schools has helped attract competent, dedicated teachers to the community. We cannot long continue, however, to coast on our reputation. If we are to maintain our ability to recruit personnel, we must materially improve our system of compensation, including the basic salary schedule and supplemental benefits.

"Going beyond the question of recruitment, it is apparent to us that the public schools are being heavily subsidized by the teachers themselves, and that through inadequate compensation the individual teacher bears a much greater share of the cost of educating our children than the individual taxpayer. This is an ironical situation indeed for a community such as ours."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

"My problem is my son," a woman announced to a new psychoanalyst. "He spends the entire day making mud pies, then eating them."

"That's not too serious a problem," the analyst assured her. "The same habit pops up repeatedly in child behavior."

"Well, I don't like it," snapped the woman, "and neither does his wife."

One of those angry young men — spokesman for the unsilent generation — wangled a job in a TV studio. "Remember," he was cautioned, "you can't afford to ignore the old love interest. There's got to be a chicken in every plot!"

A frigid silence at home, observes Orville Reed, is often the sign that a man will have to thaw his own dinner. Another Reed discovery: since the invention of elastic, women take up one-third less space.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By DICK STEINHEIMER

A Man Who Was 'Dying' Came To The Party And Wowed 1,100 Kids

We as ell as a number of other folks got a laugh last week from the Redwood High rally which featured Kid Ory and his Creole Jazz Band.

The famous Sleepy Hollow trombone man was the picture of health as he swung his group through "Muskrat Ramble" and other tunes. With good natured smiles he played to thundering ovation from the 1,100 students.

The remarkable thing was that the "Kid" apparently was dying a few months ago. We asked him after the performance if he thought he had recovered.

"I feel great," he said, mentioning his mere two operations and 90 pints of blood received in transfusions.

We asked the 72-year-old performer if all the blood from his fellow musicians had changed his style.

"I'm all mixed up now; some of the blood even came from San Quentin."

"But now I'm even giving it back," the master commented.

Golly!

WHILE AT THE SAME assembly we talked briefly with Tom McDougall of Mill Valley. We appreciated McDougall's conviction in asking for at least a semblance of debate on the much-worn tax increase subject.

By the same token however, we have to hand it to the citizens committee pushing the tax increase for their apparent effort in recent weeks to list the services the increase would go toward and to present more than "baby food" financial figures.

Contrast this with the blast on Saturday of the Mill Valley Taxpayers' unit condemning the proponents district officials for "releasing educational costs subject to more than one interpretation" in line with the 1958 grand jury report.

This reporter would submit to you that the non-controversial figure has never been found and that unlike publicity stories, public records had better not ever get in the status of being subject to "release."

MAYBE SOME of the things that would cause a man from Mars to go back to where he came from were a few much less controversial items I-J readers were able to learn about Saturday.

1 — The Bureau of Milk Control will hold a hearing Feb. 20 in Berkeley to determine if milk prices should be raised in Marin.

2 — Architect Frank Lloyd Wright (a resident of Wisconsin) will be asked to try to justify reasons for getting a $500,000 state grant for development of the Marin County fair site at Santa Venetia.

3 — The U.S. Senate passes a $465 million airport construction bill over Republican protests.

4 — The California Water Commission asks for an extra $14,500,000 added to a proposed $49,107,000 federal grant for state flood control.

Perhaps, fellow taxpayers, the fires are many and the firemen are few.

THOUGHTS WHILE cruising on lumpy nylons:

The NWP sectionman attempting to cross busy Second street with a wheelbarrow of tools. Overhead the "wig-wag" hangs motionless.

The friendliness and warmth of the Larkspur down town area; the chill as Magnolia bends into the shadows where Jean Escalle lived.

The missing of a friend; what with the bulldozing of the former grassy knoll at the Highway 101 entrance to Greenbrae.

The bright new sign proclaiming the Corte Madera town nursery made from a piece of illegal sign.

The rosy-faced boys waiting outside the office "looking for a route."

A SENATOR REPORTS

Modern Medical Art Has Cured His Cancer

(NOTE: Last fall, Senator Richard L. Neuberger, 46-year-old Democratic senator from Oregon, underwent surgery for removal of a cancerous tumor. Today, he is enroute back to Washington, grateful for being alive and prepared to "resume a normal schedule of activity"—his physician's words.)

By U.S. SENATOR RICHARD L. NEUBERGER
For United Press International

It has become almost axiomatic to protest about our modern age. Yet if I did not live in a modern age, I would probably be dead now. Three miracles of modern medical science have given me a prospect for recovery from cancer which my doctors regard as excellent.

These miracles are (1) early detection of the tumor, (2) skillful surgery, and (3) the twin agents of cobalt radiation and chemotherapy, with tumors which might spread.

EVEN BEFORE cancer was diagnosed in me, I stood on the floor of the United States Senate and advocated vastly-increased federal support of medical research. Yet I used glibly the reference that 40 million Americans were destined to have cancer. I never thought I might be among the 40 million. I always felt that this would be somebody else.

I suppose countless citizens feel this way — otherwise we would not tolerate spending more on chewing gum than on cancer research, many times more on such things as permanent waves and cigarettes.

ALONG WITH MY colleagues, Senator Lister Hill of Alabama and Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, I have been proposing an international medical year and a pooling of medical discoveries made by all nations.

Cobalt radiation, a vital factor in the successful treatment I have undergone, was developed by such illustrious scientists of Canada as Dr. David A. Keyes and Dr. H. F. Batho. I am fortunate that no unwise import quota kept this marvel of their intellects from coming to the United States.

A brush with cancer tends to place many things in true perspective.

First, one becomes profoundly grateful to all those who, through the long history of medical research, have contributed to the advances thus far made in treatment of this grim disease.

Secondly, old antagonisms fade away. I no longer can transform political disagreements into any feelings of personal malice. When one is grateful to be alive, it is difficult to dislike a fellow human being.

IS IT NOT VITAL that we devote every effort to extending these discoveries, if possible, into other areas of cancer where successful treatment has not yet been achieved?

Does it make sense to invest in cancer research only about one per cent of what we spend on research into armaments and weapons of war? Two out of every three American families are in peril of affliction from cancer.

MEDICAL SCIENTISTS inform me that some people, knowing they may have cancer, still hesitate to seek treatment because they fear it is inevitably hopeless.

The American Cancer Society reports that, already, about 30 or 35 per cent of cancer victims are being saved. As new findings are attained in the field of chemotherapy, this percentage undoubtedly will be increased — especially if people seek immediate medical care.

THE HAND GAME—Spencer Tracy plays the hand game with the strongest man on the Casablanca docks in Ernest Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea," opening Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

Hemingway Sea Drama Coming To San Rafael

By LESLIE DARD

Ernest Hemingway's short novel, "The Old Man and the Sea," shows up on the screen as a spirited melodrama built on an affectionate character study. In color, it opens Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

There is basically one episode in the novel: The old man catches a huge fish, then loses it. But imaginative variations and detailed small events have been woven into the story of the ancient one who has gone 84 days without catching a fish and is now the butt of jokes in his Cuban village.

WITHOUT FRIENDS

There is no food in his hut. He faces starvation except for the furtive charity of a small boy who had been his helper But now he doesn't even have the help of the boy, for the lad's father considers the old man bad luck and stops the association.

And so he sets out to sea once again, alone, far out, hoping for a change in luck. The moment the fish strikes, the old man realizes he is battling a monster. For two agonizing days and nights, the fight goes on, a struggle of mounting horror.

OLD MAN SUFFERS

The man's hands are torn as the fish tries to escape. He is almost pulled into the sea. He is sleepless. He has only raw bait for food. He lapses into delirium, dreaming of past glories.

Finally, the fish comes close enough for a killing thrust of the old man's harpoon. But this is merely the prelude for an even harsher ordeal: Attacks by sharks who tear at the old man's prize.

TRACY STARS

I will tell you no more of the story, which, in Hemingway's grand abstractions, states the constant battle of Man on this earth.

The film stars Spencer Tracy as the old man, a mountain of strength and determination, intense and tender, in a great, sustained session of solo acting.

Garden Hill Swim Club Action Pends

Protests against granting a use permit for an elaborate swimming club in the Garden Hill section were heeded by the Mill Valley Planning Commission, Tuesday night, with action on the request delayed until the next meeting.

Objections were voiced by Mrs. Marion Ibach and Dr. James H. Bennett, both residents of Mesa avenue. They insisted that if such a permit were issued it should be restricted to a non-profit organization. This would presumably rule out the project proposed by developer Ray Stern.

Commission Chairman R. Lannert Iglehart appointed Commissioners Claude Stoller, Mrs. Ruth Gustafson and William Secor to study the proposal and report at the next meeting.

A request by developer George C. Goheen to rezone his property near the First National Bank on Miller avenue from commercial to multiple dwelling was referred to planning technician Wesley Wilkes. Goheen plans a garden type apartment development.

The commission approved plans of the First Methodist Church for the first building of a new church at Camino Alto and Sycamore avenue.

Alto-Richardson Fire Post Sought

Elmer R. Smith, secretary of the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District, has filed nomination papers for re-election to the commission, reported Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr.

The district covers Alto, Strawberry, Bel Aire and intervening territory.

Residents who wish to run for the post have until Feb. 26 to file nominating petitions, Heynen said.

Schulman Film Spoofs Army, Suburban Life

Togetherness, suburban life and the Pentagon are the humorous targets of a new CinemaScope-Deluxe color comedy titled "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" It will be unfurled on the Tamalpais Theater screen in San Anselmo starting Sunday.

Adapted from Max Schulman's recent best-seller, it concerns a pleasant Connecticut couple (Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward) whose togetherness is placed in jeopardy by (1) Miss W's community activities (specifically, garbage disposal), (2) John Collins, a rather sexy female whose mate is away much of the time and (3) a new missile base, which threatens the value of the town's $40,000 "mortgage-covered" cottages.

TEEN PROBLEMS, TOO

The film also deals with teenage problems, represented by Tuesday Weld (a rather improbable name), a squealing young lady who is the target of soldiers from the missile base. On the one hand, the ladies of Putnam's Landing, Conn., organize to protect her virtue; on the other, the soldiers and the town boys battle for something identified only as "boojum."

STAR IN COMEDY—Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward are starred with Joan Collins and Jack Carson in Leo McCarey's comedy, "Rally Round The Flag, Boys!" based on the Max Shulman best-seller, opening Sunday at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo.

Mr. Newman's troubles are evident from the outset. He arrives home to find that one of his children has spilled the last drop of whisky and his wife popping four TV dinners into the oven.

DECIDES TO FIGHT

These troubles are complicated, of course, by the bored Miss Collins, who engages our hero in several scenes of slapstick seduction, and by Miss Woodward's decision to fight the missile base.

The finale comes at a July 4th celebration when the missile men (led by Jack Carson) engage the civilians in a free-for-all.

Estimate:

Human Sacrifices Charged In India

AHMEDABAD, India (UPI)—A 35-year-old man named Vallabdas has been arrested by police at Rajkot for the alleged sacrifice of 14 humans to the Hindu goddess Kali, according to reports reaching here.

Police were quoted as saying Vallabdas performed the sacrifices so the goddess would bless him with a bride. They claimed they seized a diary in which he recorded four sacrifices within six months. Rajkot is 300 miles north of Bombay.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Tough Schedule Pays Off For Tars; Bright Prospects For Salmon Fleet

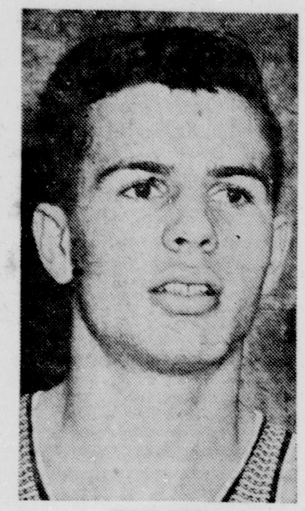
Plenty of hard work and a difficult practice schedule.

Those are the ingredients that Coach Cal Riemcke used to build the College of Marin Tars into a championship club for the second consecutive season. The Tars already have clinched a tie for the crown and need only one more victory for the undisputed title in Riemcke's second year at the helm.



RON COX

Early in the season is looked as if Marin was far from a championship club; the Tars lost a number of pre-season practice tilts and were eliminated early in the Golden Valley Conference Tournament at Sacramento.

Then, however, they caught fire and haven't lost a conference game yet. Perhaps their greatest game was a victory over American River J.C. after they trailed by as much as 17 points in that fray.

The shrewd Riemcke explains Marin's success, to-wit: "We tried to arrange the toughest practice schedule possible, against such outstanding teams as San Jose, West Contra Costa and Oakland. Sure we took some thumpings, but the kids learned a lot by them.

"Also this gang really worked hard in practice. By the time we started our league schedule the kids were in perfect shape and, well, we haven't lost since."

WEATHER PERMITTING, the Bay Area fishing fleet will head out the Golden Gate at the crack of dawn tomorrow and, from all indications, a bright season is in prospect.

A pre-opening scouting report indicates Duxbury buoy should be the hottest spot over the weekend as large schools of bait fish and the nervous gaggles of screaming gulls were spotted in the area.

The Lightship and Pedro Point were also tabbed as salmon school headquarters.

RON COX, the Drake High grad who made USF's first string in his sophomore year, is the Dons' second highest scorer through the first 18 games, statistics showed today.

Ron, former All-Northern California selection while leading Drake to championship seasons, has rolled up 135 points, second only to John Cunningham's 237 total.

Cox has made 57 of 153 field goal attempts for a 36.8 percentage and 21 out of 43 foul shots for 48.8 percent.

His average point output per game is 7.9.

JOE McGRATH, another former Drake standout, also is second high scorer for San Jose State. Joe has 150 points in the 16 games he's played. With 50 buckets in 127 attempts, Joe's floor per centage is .393. He's hit 50 of 71 charity attempts for a .704 mark and has an average of 9.4 points per game.

THE RAINS forced Joe DeMaestri to cancel his baseball players' golf tournament at the Marin Golf Club Wednesday. And since the stars will be leaving for spring training soon, the tournament has been put off until next year.

THE RECENT Olympic Club-Hamilton Field benefit basketball game at Drake High netted more than $350 for Drake's athletic program, reports Chairman Phil Hiaring. The loot is used for track and field equipment, athletic awards and award dinners and scholarships.

MRS. FAWN PEACOCK of San Anselmo is the newest Marin County prize winner in the Schenley Sportsmen's Club striped bass derby. She hooked a 14-pound, 8-ounce striper in San Pablo Bay. And it's the first time I've ever heard of a fawn and a peacock catching a bass.

SAN RAFAEL'S 20-30 Club had a baseball night this week, featuring the appearance of Jimmy Davenport of the Giants and Joe You-Know-Who of the Kansas City Athletics.

After showing a film of baseball greats of years gone by and the Hall of Fame, Davenport said the Giants were interested in trading him, "but couldn't get anything for me."

Representatives of five other Bay Area 20-30 clubs were guests of the San Rafael 20-30ians.

MARIN COUNTY High School Baseball Tournament is scheduled at San Rafael's Albert Field March 23 and 24, with Tamalpais, Drake, Marin Catholic, Redwood, San Rafael and George Washington of San Francisco scheduled to participate.

SIX MARIN preps have been nominated for the San Francisco 20-30 Club's annual East-West high school football classic next summer. They are Novato's Jack Sparrow and George Gnoss, San Rafael's Ron Snidow and Brent Marshall, Drake's Rich Schwartz and Tam's Tim Farrell. Only two will be selected for the West squad, however.

Tam Vs. S.R.; Injuns Seek Second Upset

By JOHN KLEMPNER

Surging Tamalpais invades faltering San Rafael! On the basis of last Tuesday's results, some sports writers might be prone to use that lead sentence. After all, Tam turned in the upset of the year over Napa and San Rafael lost to third place Drake.

But there's more to the picture than meets the eye. San Rafael's loss came after four overtime periods, the longest North Bay League game in history. And Tam has been getting sporadically good performances from most of its starters all year—but for the first time managed to put several good performances together.

Anyway you look at it, though, tonight's Tam-San Rafael clash promises to be a first rate basketball game. The Bulldogs must win if they are to stay in contention for the league championship, while Tam would like nothing better than a second consecutive major upset.

POSSIBLE TIE

San Rafael faces Vallejo a week from today, and victories tonight, Tuesday against Montgomery, and then over Vallejo would throw the league into a tie, assuming the high-riding Apaches aren't defeated before then.

Vallejo faces Santa Rosa tonight and clashes with Drake next Tuesday. Drake has won five league games in a row to move into third place with a 6-3 record. The Pirates travel to Napa tonight for a game they already have won by forfeit. But the Pirates want to make it a victory on the scoreboard as well as the record books, and will go all out to hand Napa its second straight defeat.

After a rocky start in which they won but one out of four, the Drakesters have come roaring back, and with a win Tuesday over Vallejo, they would stand an excellent chance of finishing in the top spot for the third straight year.

REDWOOD SLIPPING

Redwood, a team that has faltered after a strong start, should find its hands full at Montgomery tonight. The Montgomery squad has been improving slowly but steadily all season while Redwood has lost its last three in a row after sharing the league lead for a week.

The College of Marin is heavily favored to continue its winning ways this evening as they make the trip to Sierra J.C. Tip-off is set for 8 o'clock in the Sierra gym.

Marin Catholic, winner of three league tilts in a row, will be out to make it four at Bellarmine this evening. The Wildcats are out to even up their league record which currently stands at 4-6 after Tuesday's minor upset over St. Joseph's. Marin faces its major test next Friday against powerful Bishop O'Dowd, northern California's second-ranked team.

Novato High, fresh from a stunning upset over Analy Tuesday, hosts Petaluma tonight in the Novato gym.

All the high school varsity games will begin at approximately 8:45 o'clock following Class B preliminary clashes starting at 7:30.

SPENCER ENDS HOLDOUT, GETS SLIGHT HIKE

Infielder Daryl Spencer and the San Francisco Giants agreed on contract terms yesterday. Spencer was at his Wichita, Kan., home.

Spencer, playing short, hit .256 last season, including 17 homers, 5 triples and 20 doubles. He drove in 74 runs. His new contract is believed in the $18,000 to $19,000 bracket, a slight increase.

Manager Bill Rigney plans to try Andre Rodgers in the shortstop spot, shifting Spencer to second base.

Soph Jinx Doesn't Worry Schmidt; 'I'll Be Better'

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—"I'm figuring on being better this season."

That's catcher Bob Schmidt's direct answer when asked what he thought of baseball's so-called "sophomore jinx."

The 200-pound San Francisco Giants' receiver won a spot on the National League All-Star Game squad in his rookie season a year ago. And he was one of several first-year men who materially boosted the Giants when they won third place after pre-season estimates placed them sixth.

Even though this is Friday the 13th and he was asked about jinxes, Schmidt shrugged them off. "I'd like to have a better year. I guess everybody would like to have a better year. I'm figuring on being better."

The 25-year-old crew-cut blond from St. Louis finished the season with a .244 average, 14 homers and 54 runs batted in. He sees the past season as one of gaining knowledge, but can't see the sophomore jinx, explaining, "There is nothing like experience."

He echoed the previously expressed sentiments of Manager Bill Rigney, who knows success or lack of it in this coming campaign rests largely with such sophomores as 1958 rookie of the year Orlando Cepeda, third baseman Jimmy Davenport, and outfielders Willie Kirkland and Leon Wagner.

Schmidt is one of nine players currently undergoing preliminary conditioning at the Buckhorn Spa near here.

Veteran infielder Danny O'Connell, also in attendance, won't buy the sophomore jinx business either.

"You always hear of the outstanding first year man who flunks in his second season, but little is said about the one who improves," he asserted. "I would guess that four get better to every one that doesn't.

"No jinx is going to affect a man like Cepeda. Schmidt and Davenport should get better. I'd bet you right now Schmidt hits more home runs this season than last."

During the conversation, Schmidt did observe, "Some of the first year stars that drop in the second never do come back."

It brought an immediate question from O'Connell, "Do you believe in the sophomore jinx?"

"No," replied big Bob emphatically, "I sure don't."

141 'Personalized' Cars On Display In Oakland Show

The tenth annual National Roadster Show starts its 1959 presentation tomorrow in the Oakland Exposition Building with a record number of hand-built autos on display.

A total of 141 "personalized" automotive entries will be on exhibit during the nine-day Oakland event compared to last year's previous record of 126 cars, according to Show Manager Mary L. Slonaker.

Creators of sports cars, hot rods and custom cars will vie in 19 different classes for a total of 67 major awards, headed by a $5,000, nine-foot loving cup, said to be the largest trophy in the world.

The giant trophy for "America's most beautiful roadster" currently is held by Richard Peters of Fresno, whose glistening, $17,000 "Ala-Kart" will defend its title during the 1959 event.

Seeking to capture the cup or other major awards will be a caravan of "glamour cars" from Hollywood, out-of-state entries and the best efforts of Bay Area car builders.

Show doors will be open from 1 to 10 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays and from 6 to 10 p.m. on weekdays during the nine-day run that concludes on Washington's Birthday.

PCC CAGE ACTION

Another Closie For Cal, Oregon?

Don't be surprised if tonight's Oregon-California Pacific Coast Conference basketball game is a squeaker. One and two pointers are run of the mill between those two clubs.

Scores of their past three games:

Oregon won 59-57, California by 61-60 and Oregon by 64-62.

But Cal Coach Pete Newell is forgetting history. He has a one-half game lead over Washington in his bid for a third straight PCC title and he says out in front is just where he wants to be.

The Bears are 6-2 in the standings to Washington's 6-3 and Oregon State's 6-4. UCLA and Stanford are 5-4, Southern Cal 4-4, Idaho 4-5, Oregon 2-5 and Washington State 1-8.

The balance of the weekend schedule puts UCLA at Stanford tonight and at California Saturday; Southern California at Idaho and then at Washington State; Oregon State at Washington State tonight, and Oregon at Stanford Saturday night.

UCLA, always a threat with top PCC scorer Walt Torrence, is down to its third string center, Warnell Jones, a 6-foot-9 sophomore. Kent Miller, the starter, hurt an ankle. Ron Wallace, the No. 2 man, became ineligible because of low grades.

Torrence is averaging 20.5 points a game, followed by Washington's Doug Smart with 19.1.

California, leading the league and the nation in defense, has the best of the remaining schedule. After this weekend, the Bears hit the road for a trio against Washington State, Idaho and Oregon State, then come home and finish against USC, Washington State and Oregon State.

The Bears got Washington out of the way early with two victories. Since then, Darrall Imhoff, 6-10 junior, has been coming into his own as an offensive threat as well as proving himself a top defensive man. Denny Fitzpatrick leads the Cal scorers with a 12.6 average, followed by Al Buch, 11.2, and Imhoff, 10.8.

Uncle Mike Puts Blame On Feeney For Poor Bill Rigney's Accident

CONNOLLY

My Uncle Mike is all upset again, probably because he jumped out of the wrong side of the bed and stumbled over a jug, which he always leaves on the right side of his bed.

And besides he just heard over the radio that Manager Bill Rigney of the Giants got smashed up in an auto accident.

Uncle Mike always worries about other folks and he can't understand why "Chub" Feeney, the vice president of the Giants, would toss a party and then send Rigney home in the dark and so sleepy he rams into a telephone pole and smacks his wife up as well as busting his own yelling jaw and probably losing all his crockery.

"If Judge Landis had lived," Uncle Mike started off, "there would not have been any such accident as happened to Rigney, 'cause the Ole Jedge would have penalized any club owner who had his manager out to dinner, and served him anything stronger than apple cider."

UNCLE SAID that it is a sorry state of affairs when a guy like Chub Feeney throws a wing-ding and sends the skipper home a winkin' and a-blinkin' at half past three in the morning.

"Managers nowadays are funny," yells Uncle Mike. "They won't let their ball players slide for fear of hurting themselves; they don't want them to fight for fear they might get suspended and hurt the team's chances, and yet, the big bosses have parties, practically on the eve of spring training, and their manager gets banged up.

"Why when I was a kid and we had ball players like Frank Chance and Johnny Evers and Joe Tinker, nobody ever heard of them falling off a horse or a street car or a scooter.

"Those kind of ball players could lick the daylights out of the sissies we call ball players today. Why I can recall when Mike Donlin, Roger Bresnahan, Kid Eberfield, Kid Gleason, Ty Cobb, Hughie Jennings, Rabbit Maranville or Fred Clark would walk all the way to Chicago rather than let a Kansas City cop tell them they had been inhaling prune juice.

"THOSE KIND of players played because they loved the game, and not to make money."

My Uncle Mike remembers when those gentlemen mentioned above used to hire blacksmiths to carve signet rings and brass knckles out of their bodies after the ball game.

And Uncle Mike also remembers when the "Great Roman" of Chicago, Charley Comiskey, made guys like Chick Gandil, Swede Risberg, Buck Weaver and Dickie Kerr take the meager salaries he offered them and paid no attention to what their demands happened to be.

Mr. Comiskey never was in any danger of losing his right arm and saying it fell off writing big checks to his ball players.

So here we find a great young manager, on the eve of his spring training, smacking a telephone pole between the ears and hurting himself.

"I ASK you," says my Uncle Mike, "does it make sense?

"If I were Ford Frick, high commissioner of baseball, I would plaster the be-jabbers out of Chub Feeney with a fine and tell him to mind his own business and leave his manager alone on the eve of spring training."

Well, I tried to tell Uncle Mike that Chub Feeney was a guy who never drank, unless he was alone or with somebody, and that as long as I have known Bill Rigney, I have never seen him consume as much as one jigger of anything alcoholic.

But Uncle Mike said I should have gone in for the arts and sciences instead of baseball and flew out of the kitchen and has been away now three hours.

If he isn't home by midnight I'll call up Chub Feeney and tell him to put him in a cab and send him home . . . C.O.D.

East-West Game Profits 253 Gs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 34th annual East-West football game last Dec. 27 earned a record $253,656.97, all proceeds going to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

"It was the 16th year in which there was an increased profit for the hospital," said Managing Director William M. Coffman in his annual report last night to the Shriners' Islam Temple.

Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty of Michigan State will coach the East and Bill Meek of Southern Methodist the West in the 35th annual game Jan. 2, 1960, Coffman announced.

Daugherty's East team beat the West 26-14 in the last game.

Dons May Help Gaels With Win Over COP

Coach Phil Woolpert's San Francisco Dons, far out of the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball race can make the WCAC a one-team show for the St. Mary's Gaels tonight.

All the Woolpert men have to do is beat College of the Pacific at Stockton. That would give COP a 4-3 record, behind the Gael's 6-0 mark.

USF, giving up the conference title for the first time since 1954, has only one league triumph. But the Dons are showing improvement, losing to St. Mary's only in overtime Saturday 64-63.

St. Mary's has the weekend off while Santa Clara, in third place and San Jose State, occupying the cellar, spend the weekend in Los Angeles trading off against Pepperdine and Loyola.

USF will be after its 11th straight victory over COP. Woolpert hasn't lost to the Tigers since Feb. 12, 1954, when COP took a triple overtime game at Stockton.

But to top COP, Woolpert's men will have to stop Dave Klurman, highest scorer on the West Coast with a 23-point average, and contain 6 foot 8 LeRoy Wright, averaging 24 rebounds a game.

That Was No Bee

VICKSBURG, Miss. (UPI)—The bump on the head of 9-year-old Jimmy Bryant wasn't due to a bee sting, after all.

When the bump failed to go down, a doctor opened it and found a .22 caliber bullet imbedded in the scalp.

Bill Would Allow Firecrackers

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco) was prepared to drop a bill in the Legislature today which—if passed—would reverberate throughout the state's Chinatowns.

The measure—similar to one defeated by three votes two years ago—would allow the use of firecrackers during the celebration of Chinese new year.

Burton said, "The use of firecrackers by the Chinese people during the Chinese new year festivities has its roots in the religious traditions of the old country."

KAPP SIGNS WITH CALGARY FOR $15,000

BERKELEY (AP) — California quarterback Joe Kapp, the outstanding college football player on the Pacific Coast the past season, signed a tryout contract yesterday with the Calgary Stampeders.

Terms of Kapp's contract with the Canadian Western League club were not announced, but it has been reported he will receive $15,000.

Kapp, 205 pounds, captured the Pacific Coast Conference total offense and rushing titles while leading California to the Rose Bowl. He received the Pop Warner Award of the PALO Club at Palo Alto after being voted the Pacific Coast's top gridder.

Despite his achievements, National Football League coaches passed over him 208 times before the Washington Redskins drafted him in the 18th round.

Ryff, Andrade Clash On TV

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lightweights Frankie Ryff and Cisco Andrade will try to take a long step up the comeback trail tonight in their TV fight at Madison Square Garden.

The fact they are fighting on Friday-the-13th is not expected to add to the bad luck each has experienced since both were rated promising contenders for the 135-pound crown four years ago.

There were so many "ifs" about blond Ryff, 26, of New York and swarthy Andrade, 29, of Compton, Calif., that betting continued to hover around "even money" for their nationally televised and broadcast (NBC) 10-rounder.

Grid Coach Insured

5 Youngsters Chosen For State Orchestra

Five members of the San Rafael High School Orchestra have been chosen for the 125-piece All-California High School Orchestra which will have a week-long music festival Feb. 27-March 1 at Santa Barbara.

High schools throughout California were eligible to nominate students for auditions for the event. Hugo Rinaldi, head of the music department of the San Rafael schools, submitted five nominations. And all five were chosen.

Last year, three San Rafael High students were selected for the honor.

Tom Reynolds will be a member of the first violin section. In the past two years, Tom has been awarded music scholarships by Charles Meacham of the San Francisco Symphony, by Arthur Argiewicz and by the Marin Music Chest.

Mary Franzman, concert mistress of the San Rafael High School Orchestra, will also be a member of the first violin section. Mary, a senior at San Rafael High, plans to major in music at University of California in Santa Barbara.

Susan LeBlanc, a sophomore, and Sheldon Bacchus were chosen as members of the trombone section.

Lee Fullerton was named a member of the string bass section.

All the five honored students are also members of the Marin Youth Orchestra, sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin.

STILL MORE FACTS!

ABOUT THE

Tamalpais Union High School District

Special Election, Tuesday, Feb. 17

to increase the rate ceiling from $1.25 to $1.90

The Tamalpais Union High School District consists of Drake, Redwood and Tamalpais High Schools

This is an economics lesson in how the cost of education has increased in the last ten years. It's not an easy lesson. But the Citizens Committee for Education knows that every intelligent voter wants facts — not rumors, accusations or unverified statements. Good education costs money. These facts and figures will convince you, the Citizens Committee sincerely believes, why it is imperative to approve the rate increase, why you should

Vote YES For Education

Why is more money needed for Drake, Redwood and Tam?

| | 1948-49 | 1958-59 (budgeted) | per cent increase | average annual increase |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1. Revenue per student | $476.12 | $628.87* | 32.1% | 2.9% |
| 2. Expenditure per student | $401.07 | $671.53* | 67.4% | 6.1% |

*(both figures include retirement program and use of schools as "civic centers," expenditures required by law)

Why have expenditures increased three times as fast as income?

| | 1948-49 | 1958-59 | per cent increase |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. Number of high schools | 1 | 3 | 200% |
| 2. Average daily attendance | 1504 | 3300 (est.) | 119.4% |
| 3. Total cost of living (1947-49 avg.): | 100 | 127.9 | 27.9% |

(NOTE: These figures are for San Francisco, from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, and are the closest available figures. The Bureau does not compile statistics for Marin.)

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 4. Costs of goods and services: | | | |
| Teacher cost per pupil | $220.50 | $358.53 | 62.6% |
| History text | $ 3.40 | $ 4.88 | 44.0% |
| Chemistry text | $ 3.08 | $ 4.96 | 61.0% |
| Student desk | $ 20.45 | $ 31.15 | 52.3% |
| 50-lbs. ruled ink paper | $ .77 | $ .92 | 19.4% |

Has the tax rate changed?

NOTE: By law, the Board of Trustees must operate within a MAXIMUM tax rate ceiling. In SIX of the past ten years, the Board has been able to stay below this ceiling.

| | 1948-49 | 1958-59 | Per Cent increase |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. Operating tax (which pays solely for the day-to-day operation of the three high schools) | $ 1.23 | $ 1.25 | 1.6% |
| 2. Total school taxes (see below) | $ 1.25 | $ 1.55 | 24% |

| | operating | bond redemption | retirement program | civic center | total taxes |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1948-49 total taxes: | $1.23 | .02 | — | — | $ 1.25 |
| 1958-59 total taxes: | $1.25 | .20 | .05 | .05 | $ 1.55 |

These three items are required by law. They have nothing to do with day-to-day costs of running the schools. "Civic center" is the law which requires that schools be open to public meetings (e.g., Scouts), and recreation (e.g., Red Cross swim classes).

What will the future be, financially, if the rate ceiling isn't raised?

1. Projected revenue per student, 1959-60: $583.70, a decrease of 7.18%
2. Expenses? It would be impossible, with a revenue decrease of 7.18%, to continue even the present program, which already has been curtailed.
3. Why will revenue drop in 1959-60, if the rate ceiling isn't raised?

| | 1958-59 | 1959-60 | per cent decrease |
|---|---|---|---|
| State money, per student | $ 149.46 | $ 127.77 (Est.) | 14.9% |

This will decrease because, under the law, as local assessed valuation per pupil increases, state money decreases; it will decrease also, because the district has had to eliminate both the driver training program and summer schools — and although the District must pay to get these started, the State repays ALL COSTS FOR BOTH.

4. But doesn't the increase in assessed valuation bring in enough more money to compensate for the loss of state money? NO, BECAUSE THE INCREASE DOESN'T KEEP UP WITH THE STEADY INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF PUPILS. Here are the present and projected figures for the money brought in by local taxes:

1957-58 $1,338,860 which equals $438.82 per pupil
1958-59 $1,523,037 which equals $461.33 per pupil
1959-60 $1,630,570 which equals $441.88 per pupil

Want an "A" on your lesson? Then vote YES. Good schools mean a good community. The rate increase will continue the fine educational program now being offered at Drake, Redwood and Tam High Schools.

For those who have asked about the cost of administration in the District, the portion of the total operating budget spent on administration is less now than it was in 1948-49. Then it was 4.49%; for 1958-59, it is only 4.24%.

FASHIONS FOR the Tuesday show will be by the R and M Shops. Carrying out the "Portraits of Spring" theme Is Improvement Club president Mrs. Lawrence A. Cowen. The luncheon will begin at 12:30 o'clock.

FORMING THIS attractive portrait is Mrs. Kenneth Walkmeister who will also model on Tuesday. A special guest at the luncheon will be the eminent American painter, Joseph Raskob, whose work will soon be exhibited in Marin.

Luncheon To Honor Improvement Club

1959 spring fashion is a "fiting" picture of change to fresh becoming wearable fashions easily accessorized to the last detail to make women of every figure and age a frame of loveliness.

To prove its point, "Fashion Focus" will take a look at a "Portrait of Spring" at the popular Tuesday luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael which will honor the San Rafael Improvement Club, one of the county's oldest and most enthusiastic women's groups.

The attractive San Rafael Improvement Club will model harmonious bouquets of spring fashion from the R and M Style Shops with emphasis on the feminine approach to Easter in dresses, suits, millinery and accessories.

The "Fashion Focus" guests will notice that a carefully accessorized spring outfit is much like a carefully thought out painting. There is meticulous attention to line, texture, color and sensitivity to make the finished portrait meaningful and exciting.

One who should know about such things, the eminent American painter, Joseph Raskob, will be a special guest at the Tuesday luncheon. Currently exhibiting at the Crocker Art Gallery in Sacramento, his distinctive paintings of men and nature will be shown in Marin at the Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. from Feb. 27 through March 6.

As a special surprise, Raskob has generously offered one of his paintings. The San Rafael Improvement Club have planned that a majority of the proceeds from the Tuesday "surprises" will go to the Women's Auxiliary of the San Rafael General Hospital to purchase additional equipment at the hospital.

To complete the finished "frameup" for spring, Beauty Counselors will subtly shade the new spring makeup colors to the model's coloring and costume. Raymond's French Salon will style spring hair-dos to blossom with millinery or bloom alone.

Chosen to model as "Portraits of Spring" are Mesdames Sydney Frank, Leonard E. Tew, Leonard Murphy, Louis L. Walsh, John McInnis, Andrew Ferrier, Carroll Thomas, and Kenneth Walkmeister.

The popular Fashion Focus luncheon is open to the public and reservations are made by calling Rickey's Rancho Rafael. Luncheon is served at 12:30 p.m. and the show begins shortly thereafter.

Marion Bellamy To Be Speaker At Sisterhood Luncheon, Feb. 19

As the first signs of spring begin to blossom, many of us, too, have the desire to bloom anew, improve our appearance, and reach out for the Magic Key to a new personality. A great French writer once said "there are no ugly women; only women who do not know how to be beautiful."

At the first luncheon meeting of the Sisterhood of the Jewish Community Center on Feb. 19, Marin women will be given the opportunity to discover a new and better self.

Marion Bellamy, prominent Bay Area fashion co-ordinator and beauty consultant, will offer her "recipe" for a more charming personality. Well-known for her writings and teaching of social graces, beauty and fashion, Mrs. Bellamy feels there are as many necessary ingredients in making a pleasing personality as there are letters in the word.

Members of the Sisterhood and their guests will gather at the Jewish Community Center in San Rafael to enjoy a noon luncheon, followed by the first meeting to be conducted by newly-installed president Mrs. Bernard Savin. Other newly installed officers will participate by assisting Mrs. Bellamy in demonstrating her "tips" for proper sitting, standing, posing for photographs, modeling, etc.

The afternoon's program has been planned as a personal discussion, designed to enlighten on the multitude of personality ingredients: the psychology of charm, figure problems, poise, the art of conversation, and generally which foot to use in putting a best foot forward this spring.

All those seeking the Magic Key are invited by the Sisterhood to attend.

HIGHLIGHTING the first meeting of the Sisterhood of the Marin Jewish Community Center Feb. 19, will be guest speaker Marion Bellamy, prominent Bay Area fashion coordinator, who has chosen "The Magic Key To A New Personality" as her topic for discussion.

AT ST. ANSELM'S

Clara Clark Bride Of Thomas Welter

White and pink carnations decorated the altar of St. Anselm's Church in Ross for the Sunday afternoon wedding of Clara Josephine Clark and Thomas Joseph Welter. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clif F. Clark of San Rafael and he gave her in marriage. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Welter, came from their home in Renville, Minn. for the wedding.

Monsignor Clement J. McKenna officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride's chapel length gown was white Chantilly lace and tulle. The fitted lace bodice was styled with a "V" neckline and short sleeves. A wide lace petaled panel and lace appliques encircled the tulle skirt. A hand crocheted coronet with inlays of seed pearls held the bride's fingertip length veil of illusion and she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

The bride's attendants wore turquoise taffeta sheaths overlaid with white lace. The veiling on their hair matched their gowns and they carried bouquets of pink, white and red carnations.

Janet Littlejohn of Bakersfield was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Jean Roberson of Seattle, Wash., Dora Harris of Yuba City, and Mrs. Raymond Flanders of San Francisco, classmates of the bride at University of California School of Nursing in San Francisco.

William Scott Hubbard of Cucamonga was best man. Guests were escorted to their pews for the 2 o'clock ceremony by the triplet cousins of the bridegroom, Roger and Ray Wagner of Campbell and Robert Wagner of Napa. Mrs. Joyce Dalton Wisner of San Francisco sang "Ave Maria" and David Del Tredici of San Anselmo was the organ accompanist.

Locale of the reception following the ceremony was the San Rafael Improvement Club where Rozann Fundy of San Rafael was in charge of the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clark wore a blue lace dress with matching accessories. Gardenias and lilies of the valley were in her corsage. The mother of the bridegroom was gowned in pink silk. Lavender cymbidiums were in her corsage. In the family group were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Clark of Eureka.

When the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Mexico, the bride was wearing a royal blue suit, flecked with gold, and a gold colored hat. The bride, a graduate of San Rafael High School, was graduated from the University of California School of Nursing Jan. 31.

The new benedict was graduated from Renville High School and University of California at Berkeley. He is employed as an industrial engineer by the Kaiser Steel Corporation in Fontana and he and his bride will reside in that community.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH WELTER, who were married on Sunday afternoon at St. Anselm's Church in Ross. The bride, the former Clara Josephine Clark, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs Clif F. Clark of San Rafael. After honeymooning in Mexico the young couple will reside in Fontana.

Homestead P-TA To Hear Panel At Tuesday Meet

Motivation—or "What Makes Children Want to Learn or Not to Learn?" is the topic to be discussed by a panel of outstanding speakers at Tuesday night's Homestead Parent-Teachers Assn. meeting.

Panel members will be Encinal High School science teacher John Urton who guided San Rafael High School students last summer to a discovery of value to cancer research; Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff, Mill Valley's nationally recognized painter and sculptor whose latest mural was unveiled last week at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music; and Dr. Kurt Schlesinger, San Francisco psychiatrist and staff member at Mt. Zion Hospital.

Moderator will be William K. Gealey.

Urton's students in San Rafael found an inhibitor of essential enzyme in the livers of cancerous mice which was not present in normal ones, a discovery made almost simultaneously by Japanese scientists.

A question and answer period will follow the panel discussion.

The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. at the school with a social period and serving of refreshments.

The participating schools are Hill Intermediate, Lu Sutton, Marion, Olive and West Novato. Mrs. H. J. Kelly, president of the host school's P-TA, will open the meeting which will have a dual purpose. The first purpose is to commemorate the founding of P-TA. The second is the awarding of five honorary life memberships.

The program for the evening has been prepared by a committee headed by Mrs. Robert Seacrist and includes Mesdames Fredrick Babo, George Jennings, Roy Kanoff and Alfred McElroy. The history and accomplishments of P-TA in Novato, dating back to 1922, will be told in skit form.

An honorary life membership committee from each school has met and chosen one person each who has done outstanding work in the community with children or youth. The chairmen, Mrs. Charles Ridgeway, Hill Intermediate; Mrs. Charles Coniglio, Lu Sutton; Mrs. Kanoff, Marion; Mrs. John Laycock, Olive and Mrs. Lloyd Giddings, West Novato, have made plans for the presentations of these awards.

Other arrangements for the meeting have been made by the Founder's Day chairmen of the participating schools, who are Mrs. Walter Panholzer, Hill Intermediate; Mrs. Lawrence Nelson, Lu Sutton; Mrs. Kanoff, Marion; Mrs. Seacrist, Olive and Mrs. Patrick Owens, West Novato. Other chairmen have been Mesdames Thomas Scott, invitations; John Coulter, corsages; and George H. Pelmear, publicity. Mrs. Henry Chiosi, of Olive P-TA, will be hostess for the evening. William J. J. Smith, superintendent of the Novato Unified School District, will act as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Beverly Ehreth, a Novato teacher, will speak briefly on the life membership student loan fund.

The traditional silver offering will be taken at this meeting.

Past president and holders of honorary life memberships will be the special guests of the evening.

McCabe Addresses Sausalito Club

Speaker before the members of the Sausalito Woman's Club at a recent meeting was Robert McCabe, assistant to the Regional Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency and a resident of Sausalito.

McCabe, who is a specialist in planning and was a planning consultant in South America for seven years, explained the setup of the General Plan for Sausalito as developed by Sydney H. Williams, director of planning for Pacific Planning and Research, with the aid of the Citizens' Advisory Committee and Sausalito Planning Commission. The objectives call for keeping the character of Sausalito with planning for future development.

On a motion made by Mrs. John Koenig, the Sausalito Woman's Club unanimously approved and endorsed the General Plan and its objectives.

At the same meeting, the club elected Mesdames John Koenig, Willard Hall, Richard Grambow, Charles Diller Ryan and Ronald MacKenzie to the nominating committee

PLANNING THIS year's drive of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., are, left to right, Mesdames Maynard Garrison Jr., and Henry W. Hillebrand III. Captains are meeting to plan the drive this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maurice A. Gale in Belvedere.

A SNEAK preview showing of the new educational film put out by the school and called "The San Rafael Story" will be shown to Marin captains at this afternoon's meeting. Heading the projection crew are Mesdames Fisher Kinslow Jr. and Rodney Birder. (Independent-Journal photo)

Information Please Panel Scheduled By Deer Park P-TA

Written questions from parents regarding educational theory and practice are requested by Bruce McDonald, the principal of Deer Park School, Fairfax, for an "Information Please" panel to be conducted at the school. Deer Park teachers will act as panel members. This program will be given Thursday, Feb. 26, at 8 p.m., in the school's multi-use room, but parents are asked to send their questions to school now, in order to prepare a more informative panel.

McDonald points out that general questions will be most useful for this occasion. The more specific questions (how arithmetic and reading are taught in the first grade, for instance) are covered in question and answer sessions with individual teachers annually during "Back to School Night" in September.

There is a need to supply information regarding educational aims and methods on a broader scale. Parents might want to know how their children compare with others in the U.S. in terms of achievement as related to grade level, age and ability. They might want an interpretation of the Iowa Tests, or other related tests, or they might want to know what an I.Q. actually means. Any questions relating to the general philosophy of education that in turn reflect the method of instruction and content of curriculum, will also be welcomed.

In order to give a better background for discussion, McDonald will first present graphs showing the results of various standard achievement tests, as well as ability or intelligence tests, given to Fairfax children. He will explain how these are interpreted for helping the individual child, and also for the evaluation of the school's own program.

The panel will be moderated by Mrs. Leon Boardway, vice president of the Deer Park P-TA. Questions may be sent to school with students or mailed directly to the school.

Guide Dogs Drive To Begin In March

Women have long played an important part in Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc.

In fact, the famous training center was founded by five Bay Area women: Mrs. Nion Tucker, Mrs. Ryer Nixon, Mrs. Frank Dearing, Mrs. Kilbourne Breeden and the late honorable Florence P. Kahn. Since its beginning no professional fund raiser has ever been hired by this philanthropic organization. All this difficult work has been done by local volunteers, the majority of whom are women.

For more than 10 years Mrs. Maurice A. Gale of Belvedere has quietly worked for the school. Besides a member of the board of directors she is chairman of the Marin County membership committee, this year assisted by co-chairman Mrs. Fisher Kinslow Jr. of Kentfield.

Today Mrs. Gale invited all the Marin captains to lunch at her beautiful home to plan this year's drive, to begin in March. First, though, she had a surprise: a sneak preview showing of the new educational film put out by the school, and called "The San Rafael Story." The picture, which shows what the students do during their four weeks at the school, was filmed by director of training Larry Rees and narrated by H. Hartley Sater and Douglas Pledger, both well-known radio commentators.

This year's captains are Belvedere-Tiburon, Mrs. James Reisinger; Larkspur, Mrs. Thurlow Jaegeling; Corte Madera, Mrs. Herbert Moody; Mill Valley, Mrs. John C. Nason; Strawberry Point, Mrs. Fred Andress; Kentfield, Mrs. Maynard Garrison Jr.; Ross, Mrs. Bullard Nugent, co-captain, Mrs. Harold Schutte; San Anselmo, Mrs. R. H. Birder; Sleepy Hollow, Mrs. Stanley Kern; San Rafael, Mrs. Frosty Winter; Terra Linda, Mrs. Alan Kaye; Novato, Mrs. C. E. Harless; Sausalito, Mrs. Clyde Trudell, co-captain, Mrs. Charles Corrasa.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Estrada of Larkspur have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean Estrada, and Stephen Kruger. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Ware of Michigan City, Ind. The bride-elect is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and is employed in San Francisco.

The future benedict is serving in the Navy aboard the USS Ranger which is now en route to the Orient. On his return wedding plans will be made.

13 Passed Tests At Bethel Meet

At a recent meeting of Bethel 246 Larkspur, International Order of Job's Daughters, 13 girls took their proficiency test. Linds Offenbach, Sandra Storhaug, Susan Bevens, Eugenia Van Vliet, Ada Wickland, Barbara Green, Beverly Sadler, Sandra Bates, Kay Kolby, Lynne Reed, Jackie McLaren, Suzanne Talbot, and June Melville all passed the proficiency test under the guidance of the senior princess, Penny Clark.

Honored queen Sue Reed presided over the meeting. It was decided that there will be a mystery trip fun project. There will be a tri-Bethel luncheon with Bethels 119 and 48 on March 7 at Bermuda Palms.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Lawyer Fees Deductible For Alimony

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Did you have attorney's fees in connection with getting alimony? You can deduct the cost of collecting taxable alimony.

Peter J. Wikel

Assume that you were divorced in 1958 and that you had attorney's fees of $1,000 in connection with the divorce and getting alimony which is taxable income to you. Assume also that the attorney's fee can be divided; one-half or $500 to the cost of getting the divorce and one-half or $500 to the cost of getting the alimony. Then you would be able to deduct the $500 attributed to the cost of getting alimony.

Any portion of the attorney's fees which might be properly charged to getting child support would not be deductible.

Any child support received should not be included in your taxable alimony as it would not be income to you.

If you have used your income to furnish more than one-half of the support of the child, and, of course, the child qualifies in all other ways, then you can claim the child as your dependent.

If the child support that you received is more than one-half of the cost of supporting the child, then your husband is entitled to the dependency credit for the child, even though you may have contributed substantially to the cost of supporting the child.

If the child lives with you, and you do not furnish more than one-half of the child's support, you still may be accorded treatment as the "head of household" which would give you a tax advantage if your net income is over $2,000.

Alimony, separate maintenance, child support and divorce are tricky questions. You and your spouse should be in agreement as to who is going to pay the taxes and claim the dependency on your tax returns. An amicable agreement between you can save you both a great deal of trouble and misunderstanding later.

If this applies to you, be sure to consult your accountant before filing your income tax return. There is a large tax saving possibility here.

NEWS VIEWS

By LEON C. SMITH

One hundred and fifty years after the birth of Abe Lincoln, Feb. 12 1809, there's a lot of talk about more Federal aid for education. But in Abe's day books were scarcer than zither players in a brass band . . . and he would sometimes walk miles to borrow a book. Paper was expensive, so he did his sums on a shovel with a bit of charcoal. He got his first real English grammar book when he was 27 years of age.

That's enough to make the average fellow forget about getting an education; and it's enough to make most men bitter toward people who had greater advantages. But it only gave Lincoln greater understanding . . . and he was able to say in later years, "I have not willingly planted a thorn in any man's bosom."

We kind of like the remark made by one of our modern philosophers who said, "The simplest way to better your lot is to do a lot better." And if you're in the market for a good, clean used car in fine mechanical condition you can't do better than look at the real bargains we now have on hand. Come in soon . . . J. E. ## 2 Fire Departments Plan Joint Dinner

Belvedere volunteer firemen have set for Feb. 21 their joint dinner with the Tiburon Volunteer Fire Department at the Belvedere Firehouse, reported Stanley V. Dick, president of the Belvedere volunteers.

Ronald Simpson is chairman of the 6:30 p.m. event. Dick said the dinner is planned to acquaint volunteers of the departments with each other.

Florida Giving Ax To Old Children's Books

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Has the Wizard of Oz lost his magic? To some grownups in Florida, he has.

These same grownups have grounded boy's best friend, Tom Swift. They have relegated the Girl Scout series to the trash pile and vowed they never again want to look upon Horatio Alger or hear about the Lone Ranger.

It's part of a movement to ban outdated and "poorly written" children's books. The state librarian, Dorothy Dodd, started the campaign with an advisory to all public libraries.

She listed 17 titles now published and eight series out of print that should be withdrawn from circulation.

"Kids don't like that fanciful stuff any more," said Dr. Frank B. Sessa, chairman of the Miami Public Library. "They want books about missiles and atomic submarines."

In her letter suggesting the removal of the books, Miss Dodd said the series-type "are poorly written, untrue to life, sensational, foolishly sentimental and consequently unwholesome for the children in your community."

Included on the list was "Uncle Wiggily," a book Mrs. Edmonds said was requested only once in 25 years.

Uncle Wiggily, however, has a friend in high office in Florida.

Gov. LeRoy Collins said he would hate to see the old favorites such as the Bobsey Twins go. He didn't question that better books are being written.

"But at the same time," he said, "I think the judgment of what's good and bad should rest in the great body of people who read the books rather than those who may feel that they are in a special position to judge the quality."

NEW YORK (UPI) — There are an estimated 270 Americans with an annual pre-tax income of $1 million or more. Approximately 600 are in the $500,000 to $1 million bracket; 22,000 in the $100,000 to $500,000 set and 89,000 in the $50,000 to $100,000 class.

Ike May Visit Mamie

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Friends here believe President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan a rendezvous in San Antonio among the scenes of their courtship.

Elaborate preparations at the hotel where Mrs. Eisenhower and her sister are staying and Mamie's assertion last night that the President may visit here en route to or from Acapulco, Mexico, brought on the conjecture.

The President is due in Acapulco for a Feb. 19 meeting with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico.

The President was a young Army officer here when he and Mamie Doud announced their engagement.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her sister, Mrs. G. Gordon Moore of Washington, are here en route to a vacation at Elizabeth Arden's Maine Chance beauty and health resort near Phoenix.

Now he's serving a brief new term for breaking into jail.

As City, Novato Could Well Be Marin's Largest

(Editor's note: This is the last of a series of articles detailing the report of the Novato incorporation study prepared by Governmental Research Associates of Oakland. It is presented by the Independent-Journal for the information of interested readers. The conclusions are those of the survey firm.)

"It is easy to say where Novato begins, but almost impossible to say where it ends."

So stated William R. Zion in his recently prepared incorporation report, drawn up for the Novato Home Rule Study Committee, which now is faced with the task of defining specific boundary lines for a proposed City of Novato.

Committee chairman Clark M. Palmer Jr. said that before boundary lines are set, major land holders will be consulted.

TWO POSSIBLE AREAS

The report suggests two possible areas for the proposed City of Novato.

The larger area takes in 50 square miles. Its boundary begins at the crest of St. Vincent's Hill, runs northwest to Stafford Lake (rimming the Pacheco Hill ranches and Loma Verde), thence northward along the Burdell ridge to Highway 101 to a point a mile south of the Marin-Sonoma County line, thence northeast to the county line, and down Petaluma Creek to San Pablo Bay. It follows the bay shore to a point south of Hamilton Air Force Base, then runs back to St. Vincent's Hill.

The smaller area includes only 15 square miles—"still a good sized city," Zion has remarked. Its boundary line, starting at the junction of Highways 101 and 37, parallels South Novato Boulevard (outside of all development feeding into that artery), along the foothills, past the end of Gage lane, Wilson avenue and Vineyard road, then northward parallel to Sutro avenue, through the foothills of the Freitas ranch and eastward to Highway 101 just north of Atherton avenue; thence southeastward parallel to Atherton and into the bay just north of Novato Creek; thence along the bay shore to the south corner of Hamilton Air Force Base.

ALTERNATE AREAS

Within the larger area are included three "alternate areas"—Black Point, Indian Valley and Hamilton Air Force Base.

The smaller area includes Indian Valley and Hamilton Air Force Base, but excludes Black Point.

Which of the two areas the boundary finally includes will have a direct bearing on what services a City of Novato would need to render and what its income would be—thus also what its tax rate would be.

Zion maintains that adoption of the larger boundary would make possible an initial tax rate of 21 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. With the smaller area, he estimates the initial tax rate at 24 cents.

BIGGEST CITY

Within the larger boundary reside 22,100 persons, Zion estimates. The city would therefore become the largest in the county in both population and area. It has an assessed valuation of 20 million dollars, he said.

The smaller area would have an assessed valuation of 16 million dollars, Zion estimates.

Hamilton Air Force Base would prove a financial asset to the city, Zion claims. Without it, the tax rate would have to be raised by 20 to 25 cents, he reports. "This is because there is no cost involved in serving the base, while its added population means added state subventions of $39,000."

Black Point and Indian Valley, however, would be burdensome to the city financially, requiring greater expenditures for service than they would produce in revenue, he indicates.

EXTRA TIME

"Inclusion of Black Point is of no particular significance to the rest of the study area," the report states. "It is somewhat removed from the other built-up areas, making for extra traveling time for road crews and police patrols."

Inclusion of Black Point, however, would serve to "round out" the boundaries, Zion says.

Indian Valley presents a similar financial picture. But it is an integral part of the city, geographically, Zion reports. "It would continue to be a part of the community, whether included in the boundaries or not."

If Indian Valley were excluded from the larger study area, the boundaries would have to be modified to prevent creation of an "island."

SANITARY DISTRICT

Zion has recommended, apart from the formal report, that the boundary line suggested should be modified to include all of the Novato Sanitary District. If that is done, by extending the southern boundary line further southward beyond Hamilton Field, the district could be taken over by the city.

"Many special districts can be taken over or left in existence, at the city's discretion," the report advises. "Schools, however, are not changed in any way." Nor would incorporation affect the districts for mosquito abatement, air pollution, rapid transit and the county hospital.

An attempt should be made to take in Raphael Village near Hamilton Air Force Base, Zion recommends, since it would require little in the way of services and would contribute to the city's revenues.

"Although this report is based on the boundaries described," Zion explains, "the details of these boundaries can be considerably modified without substantially affecting the data or conclusion of the report."

PIGEONS DON'T BEHAVE LIKE THAT IN BRAZIL

NEW YORK (AP) — Blonde Brazilian singer Rosina Pagan said she placed her six and one-half carat diamond ring, valued at more than $7,000, on the window sill of her Manhattan apartment yesterday while she polished her fingernails.

Along came a pigeon, she said and whisked the ring away.

She said the ring was a gift from a Texas oil man.

"I'm going to sue the city, I'm going to sue somebody," she said, adding that pigeons never do things like that in Brazil.

Marin Demo Assembly Sets Session

The Marin Democratic Assembly will hold its quarterly meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Olney Hall on the College of Marin campus.

On the agenda will be election of officers, board members and delegates to the California Democratic Council's issues conference.

Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley, Northern California chairman of the conference which will be held in Fresno March 13-15, will present a preview of the parley. Resolutions passed by the board since last meeting will be offered to the membership for approval.

Chairman Frederick J. Del Pino of San Anselmo heads the slate of nominees for officers. Mrs. Mary Jo Gentes of Ross, vice chairman, was also re-nominated. Mrs. Leafie C. Smith of Tiburon and Nathaniel Guyol of San Rafael were nominated for secretary and treasurer, respectively. Ernest Schallinger of Novato is retiring treasurer. Mrs. Lucile Griffiths, secretary, moved to Berkeley.

Eight new board members and 17 delegates to the issues conference will be selected.

The Democratic County Central Committee, which would ordinarily meet Tuesday, will hold its meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the county courthouse.

Union Board Seeks To Keep Teacher

Union School District trustees will try to keep Mrs. Harriet Wierschke as teacher of the one-room school in far North Marin where she has instructed for 12 years.

The trustees, meeting Wednesday, voted to ask Mrs. Wierschke to abandon intentions she announced a year ago to leave for a higher paying job.

"She has had one raise since then, so we don't know how she feels now, but we want her to stay on," said Mrs. Peter Giacomelli, trustee.

Army Reserve Units To Be 'Pentomic'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Army reserves in the 6th Army area are to be reorganized to conform with "pentomic" concepts, Lt. Gen. Charles D. Palmer announced at the Presidio of San Francisco today.

The 6th Army commander indicated the changeover would be a major shakeup

For the past several years the Army has been converting its old-style World War II three-regiment divisions into five battle group organizations. The idea is to create more mobile, hard-hitting divisions capable of operating successfully in the atomic era.

General Palmer said the reserve changeover "will require the inactivation of some units, with resulting reassignment of personnel to other units, control groups, standby or retired lists."

Among the existing reserve divisions in the country the Army has designated 10 reserve combat divisions and 13 reserve training divisions for reorganization.

"Each of the 10 combat divisions will contain five battle groups instead of infantry regiments and battalions, while the training divisions will contain five regiments, each of which will include training battalions," the announcement said.

HE'D NEVER TRIED IT, BUT IT WORKED

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—A 35-year-old salesman had never used artificial respiration, but he gave it a try. As a result, 2-year-old Jackie Lunz is alive and well.

Jackie slipped under the water in a bathtub after his mother left him for a moment to attend to an infant son.

When Mrs. John Lunz Jr. pulled Jackie from the tub, he was unconscious. She ran into the street and screamed for help.

Richard Beattie, a neighbor, ran to her aid. He said he had never tried artificial respiration but would "give it a try."

Beattie worked on the boy 30 minutes before there were signs of life.

HONOLULU (UPI)—Snow fell over Honolulu yesterday — about 12,000 feet over, to be exact.

The weather bureau said a heavy rain that doused Hawaii fell from high altitude clouds in the form of snow, which melted when it reached the lower and 70 degree altitudes of Honolulu.

The bureau described the storm as "most unusual."

Leona Lee of Honolulu will be officially crowned in elaborate ceremonies which begin the gala three-day celebration. She was selected last week.

Tomorrow will be highlighted by the annual Chinese parade ushering in the Year of the Boar, 4657 by the Chinese calendar.

The parade will feature the famed golden dragon which snakes its way through the streets of Chinatown.

The celebration ends Sunday with the coronation ball.

Doctor Opens Marin Office

A young doctor from Minnesota has opened an office in Mill Valley.

Dr. John R. Lee, a general practitioner, is leasing offices at 170 East Blithedale avenue.

A lifetime resident of Minnesota, Dr. Lee attended Harvard College in Cambridge, Mass., from 1947 to 1951, going on to medical school at the University of Minnesota. He interned at Minneapolis General Hospital. He practiced six months in Faribault, Minn.

In 1957, the Navy took him as a medical officer and he "saw the world," spending one year with the Marine Corps in Japan and Okinawa and another year at Treasure Island. While in the Bay Area he spotted Mill Valley and decided to make it his home. "It was a big decision for me," he said.

Dr. Lee is a bachelor and makes his home at 178 Tamalpais avenue.

Claim To Fame

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — Kathy and Lee Wolff here have at least one claim to fame. They have a grandma Wolff and a grandma Bare.

SANTA VENETIA INSTITUTION

Hospital's Builders Take Over Operation

A San Anselmo couple, Timothy and Ellen Egan, are the new operators of a 50-bed convalescent hospital at 234 North San Pedro road, Santa Venetia.

Formerly the Tamalpais Convalescent Home, it has been given a new name — Rafael Convalescent Hospital.

Situated on three hillside acres, the L-shaped building was built by Egan in 1952-53. For five years, it was leased to other operators. Two months ago, Egan and his wife, a registered nurse, took it over.

HOPES TO ENLARGE

The hospital, which Egan hopes to enlarge by another 100 beds "in the very near future," is for aged and chronically ill persons as well as convalescents. Recently redecorated and refurnished throughout, it has 22 private and semi-private rooms and three-bed wards.

Besides Mrs. Egan, there are six registered nurses to provide around-the-clock nursing care. Head nurse is Mrs. Ruth Goodreau of Corte Madera, formerly nurse-in-charge at Marin Rehabilitation Hospital on Tiburon Peninsula.

Mrs. Egan, who once worked at Ross General Hospital, and Mrs. Goodreau both are graduates of St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing. But the St. Joseph's Mrs. Egan attended is in San Francisco and the one where Mrs. Goodreau studied is in Hancock, Mich.

LIKE KITCHEN

The Egans are particularly enthusiastic about the immaculate stainless steel kitchen at Rafael Convalescent Hospital, not to mention the meals produced by Mrs. Sybil Middagh of San Francisco, head cook and dietician, with the assistance of Mrs. Anita Cain of San Rafael.

Outdoors, in a grassed area shielded by the building's two wings and the wooded hillside, is a level patio. Accessible via three ramps, it is a place where patients can bask in the sun on warm days. For those who prefer dappled sunlight, there is a sheltered section under a lath roof.

The hospital is fire-insulated throughout. Added protection is afforded by two heavy fire doors in each wing and an asbestos roof.

The Egans live at 42 Lincoln avenue, San Anselmo. Both born in Ireland, they are longtime residents of Marin County — Egan since 1933 and his wife since 1925. Egan was once a partner in two grocery stores, in San Rafael and Kentfield.

State Education Board Eyes 4 Revamp Plans

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Board of Education is considering three legislative proposals designed to cure its administrative ailments.

The board deferred action yesterday on all the proposals, and one of its own, until its next meeting March 12 in San Jose.

Under consideration were these measures:

1. An Assembly bill calling for two board members to be elected from each of the state's four equalization districts. Candidates would be nominated by a caucus of school boards within each district.

2. A senate bill proposing an elected board of 10 members.

3. A proposed constitutional amendment calling for an elected board, which would in turn appoint a superintendent of public instruction. The appointment would be subject to Senate confirmation.

At present the superintendent's post is elective, and board members are appointed by the governor with Senate confirmation.

Board president William L. Blain of Pasadena said he would have no objections to an elected body if the candidates were named by a caucus of local school district board members.

Supt. of Instruction Roy E. Simpson said he would not mind his job's becoming appointive, but he opposed any provision for Senate confirmation.

"I think that's very poor government," Simpson said. "I see no reason for throwing a position of this type into direct politics, and that's exactly what it would do."

Holdover members indicated they favored an earlier board proposal: The board would be appointive by the governor, members would hold office for 11 years, and they would choose a superintendent of public instruction.

Bus Service Grinds To Sudden Halt

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Bus service in this city of 128,000 stopped abruptly this morning because "the company cannot continue to absorb losses."

Mayor William Davidson said he learned of the decision to stop service at midnight. "That's a heck of a way to do," he said.

Wyman Redmon, superintendent of Evansville City Coach Lines, said his orders to stop service came from Manfred Burleigh, president of the parent firm, City Coach Lines, Detroit.

The company first announced plans to stop service Jan. 31 but later agreed to continue until a successor could qualify.

Evansville Transit, a new firm set up by businessmen, is trying to take over bus service, but details are still being worked out.

Power Mowers Favored By Public

RICHMOND, Ind (UPI)— Leisure-loving Americans are going in more and more for power lawnmowers, according to Mo-to-Mower, Inc., which reports that 11 out of every 12 mowers sold in 1958 were of the power type.

Slight Mixup

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Dr. John Ziegler sent for a copy of federal government publication No. 15700, "Handbook for Emergencies."

Two weeks later, 15,700 copies of the publication arrived at his home.

No. 30650

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Marin.

In the Matter of the Adoption of LISSA LIND CROWLEY, a minor.

TO: CHARLES FRANCIS CROWLEY, father of the above-named minor:

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that there has been filed in this Court the verified petition of BASIL A. COLEMAN and JOAN PEDERSEN COLEMAN for the adoption of the above named minor by the said BASIL A. COLEMAN, and that it is alleged in said petition that JOAN PEDERSEN COLEMAN, the mother of the minor, was heretofore granted a final decree of divorce from you and was awarded the custody of said minor; and that you, for a period of more than one year, have wilfully failed to pay for the care, support and maintenance of such child when able so to do;

THEREFORE, you are hereby cited to appear before the above entitled court, Department No. 2 thereof, situated in the County Court House, San Rafael, California, on the 8th day of May, 1959, at the hour of 9:30 o'clock, A. COLEMAN without requiring your consent thereto.

WITNESS, The Honorable THOMAS F. KEATING, Judge of the Superior Court this 5th day of February, 1959.

BISHOP BOWS TO POPULARITY OF TV SHOW

STOKE, England (UPI)—Rt. Rev. Anthony Otter, bishop of Grantham, has changed the time of his Lenten services on Wednesdays from 7 p.m. to 7:15 p.m.

Too many parishioners want to watch a TV show on British family life called "The Archers" which is on at the earlier hour.

GI Singer's Performance Saves Opera

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Only two days ago, 23-year-old Mallory Walker of Long Beach was just another GI voice in an Army chorus.

But last night Walker sang the leading role without rehearsal and on only four hours notice to save the Washington Opera Society from canceling its opening night production of Igor Stravinsky's opera "The Rake's Progress."

Music critic Milton Berliner of the Washington Daily News thought Walker's performance was "fine." He also praised the young singer for a "remarkable feat" in taking the role.

Walker, at present singing in the Army chorus at Ft. Myer, Va., learned the part in recent months because he hopes to move into an opera career.

Walker replaced John McCollum, who became ill during dress rehearsal Wednesday. Walker spent yesterday morning "walking through" the part.

Benefit Slated For Guitarist

A benefit performance for and by guitarist Carl Herreshoff will be held tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Ave Maria Shop, new art rental establishment at 973 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

Proceeds will help the 17-year-old classic guitarist to pay his travel expenses to Sienna, Italy, where he plans to study under Andres Segovia.

The performance will mark the opening of the Ave Maria Shop. Also present will be artists William Rane of Larkspur, Lyman van Anda of Sausalito and Rich Locati of San Rafael. Refreshments will be served.

The Ave Maria Shop, operated by Phyllis Heath of Larkspur, will be in the nature of a service to artists. Mrs. Heath, who has been active in benefit performances in connection with radio station KPFA, plans to sponsor two recitals and a bon voyage party for Herreshoff.

'SOUNDING BOARD'

Novatans Debate Issue Of Incorporation

Two Novato old-timers say they oppose incorporation for the North Marin community because they fear it would mean higher taxes.

And two other Novato residents contend the fast-growing North Marin community stands to gain much and lose nothing by becoming an incorporated city.

Said Capt. Charles Clarkson, a retired merchant marine captain and longtime Novato resident, "As far as I'm concerned, the less government we have the better. I think we have entirely too much government in the whole of Marin."

Answering a question about whether incorporation would give Novato a stronger and more official voice in county affairs, French Jacks, a retired salesman who has lived in Novato a quarter century, said Novato residents may have one representative only on the county board of supervisors but "we know who we have."

Jacks and Captain Clarkson appeared on yesterday's KTIM radio broadcast of the "Marin Sounding Board" with two members of the Novato Home Rule Study Committee.

The program will be repeated by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Speaking in favor of Novato's becoming a city were Clark Palmer, Novato attorney, and Dr. Merton Shelton, a Novato physician.

They backed up their position with a study prepared by William R. Zion of Oakland, who had estimated that a slight lowering of taxes in parts of Novato and a small rise in other parts would result from incorporation.

Doctor Shelton listed advantages of incorporation as "more efficient police coverage, local zoning and subdivision control," enhancement of Novato as an airport and state college site, planning for parks and community recreation center with a swimming pool (he said they possibly would be donated), establishing bridle paths, and even as a protection to Indian Valley and West Novato residents who want their areas to remain rural, because they would have more direct contact with Novato city councilmen than with a county board of supervisors.

Captain Clarkson replied that Novato was getting "round-the-clock protection" from the sheriff's office. As for improving roads, he declared the county had agreed to spend $75,000 on Center road but the affected property owners refused to form an assessment district to foot the rest of the bill.

Captain Clarkson said he couldn't see any reason that Novato would be more desirable when incorporated as a state college site or for industry. He noted that College of Marin (a junior college) was located in unincorporated Kentfield.

"Industry will go any place where they can make money," he said. "Who drives industry out?" he asked. "The people themselves," the captain answered himself. He cited the recent case of a shopping center proposed for Novato by Safeway Stores.

The first step to be taken by proponents of incorporation is to circulate petitions asking for an election on the issue. The petitions must be signed by owners of at least 25 per cent of the area's assessed valuation and represent at least 25 per cent of its population.

Jacks announced that he and Captain Clarkson or Henry Lautrup could supply petitions opposed to incorporation.

The normal child does 75 per cent of his learning through vision.

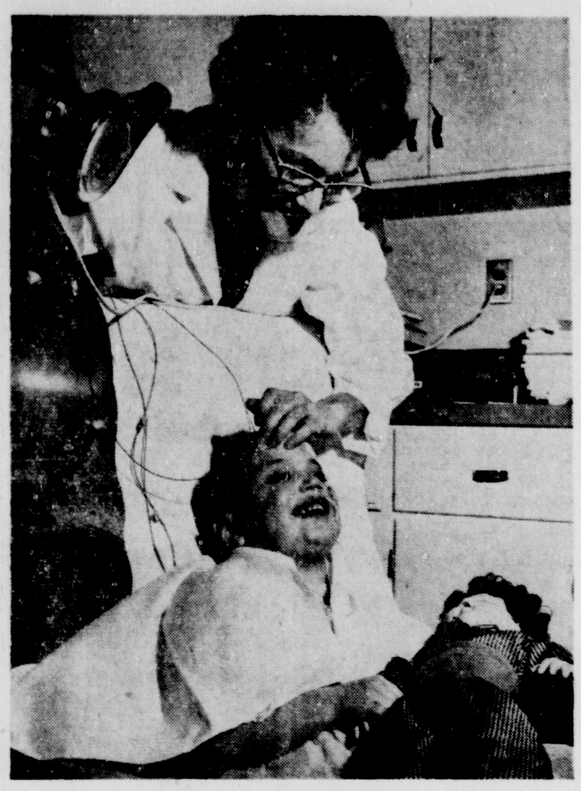
SHE'LL DANCE AGAIN

Miracles Of Medicine Save Badly Hurt Girl



CUTE PATIENT — Four-year-old Maria Elena Gonzales sits for electroencephalograph tests at Marin General Hospital. Technician Joellen Smith "glues" test pins to Maria's head. Maria was injured Jan. 26 when bales of hay fell on a station wagon in an accident near Nicasio. (Independent-Journal photo)

A part of her skull will be plastic, but little Maria Elena Gonzales will dance again.

It was on the way home from dancing school that the accident happened that changed—and almost ended—Maria's life.

On the afternoon of Jan. 26, Maria was riding home to Nicasio from a dancing class in Point Reyes Station, with Lisa Tomasini, 5, and Janis La Franchi, 5. Driving the girls in her station wagon was Mrs. Heloise Marie Tomasini, Lisa's mother.

About two miles east of Shoreline highway, they met a truck loaded with hay. The truck pulled out to let the car pass. As it did so, the four-ton load of baled hay on the truck shifted. Forty bales came tumbling down, part of them landing squarely on the station wagon.

Mrs. Tomasini was seriously injured. Lisa and Janis escaped without major hurt. But 4-year-old Maria suffered the worst of all.

Her skull was fractured, and a piece of it torn away leaving the brain exposed. Her upper jaw was fractured. And she was severely cut and bruised.

For five and one-half hours that night, she lay under anesthesia in Marin General Hospital. Her head was shaved. Bits of hay and debris had to be picked from the open wound before surgery could begin.

Crushed bits of bone were carefully removed from the open fracture. The edges of the broken skull then were smoothed much as one would smooth a broken fingernail. The ragged edges of the membrane covering the brain were trimmed.

Then came the most important and dangerous part of the operation. A blood clot had formed deep in the brain. It had to be removed, or it could snuff out the young life.

While all this was being done, and Maria's fractured jaw set and her many wounds dressed, she received one and one-half pints of blood by transfusion.

It was touch - and - go for awhile for Maria. But gradually she recovered. Physical therapy helped restore her muscle functions and coordination. Her side, partially paralyzed, was gradually restored to where it has only traces of paralysis.

After 13 days in the hospital, she was released to return home. She must return frequently for electroencephalograph tests—measurements of the brain's responses by a delicate instrument found usually in only the largest hospitals.

There remains one more operation. After her recovery is complete enough, surgeons will replace the lost skull bone with a plastic plate.

And one day Maria will dance again.

The story has a happy ending, too, for Mrs. Tomasini. Her skull also was fractured, as were her nose and bones in her right hand. But last Tuesday she was released from Ross General Hospital to return home and complete her recovery.

Chamber Backs Road Legislation

The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce voted yesterday to back legislation for including Sir Francis Drake boulevard and Red Hill avenue in the state highway system as part of a state road from Highway 101 to Olema.

The San Anselmo merchants also decided to send representatives to a Redwood Empire Assn. meeting in Napa on Wednesday. The San Anselmo representatives, armed with endorsements from the city's service and civic organizations, are to present San Anselmo's case for inclusion of its two thoroughfares in the highway system.

Korean-American Kids Have Reunion With Benefactor

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Thirty Korean-American children had a big reunion yesterday with their benefactor, Harry Holt, who arranged to bring them to this country for adoption.

Holt, of Creswell, Ore., was welcomed at the reunion at the Free Methodist Church by the children and their new parents. Holt hugged each child.

To date Holt has brought more than 1,200 Korean children whose fathers were American GIs to this country for adoption. He has six children of his own and has adopted eight Korean-Americans.

Holt, who became interested in the children after seeing a film describing their plight, arranges for them to be brought to the United States on a chartered plane every other month. Pictures of children are shown to prospective parents whose backgrounds and general fitness are checked.

Payroll Processing Delay By County Irks College Board

Electronic payroll processing done through the office of the Marin County superintendent of schools was criticized last night by the payroll clerk for College of Marin.

The college board subsequently agreed it may ask Asst. County Supt. Leland J. Harris to appear at the next regular meeting to explain delays in preparation of the college payroll.

The board several months ago approved an agreement allowing processing of the school's payroll by the county with its International Business Machines equipment, along with those of virtually every other school district in Marin.

Mrs. Juanita Willis, payroll clerk and veterans' adviser at the college, said the 85 checks of the supplemental payroll have arrived late since county preparation of the payroll started in January.

She told board members the payroll formerly had been sent to the superintendent's office on the sixth of each month and was returned on the 10th. She said arrangements were made this month for sending the payroll in on the fifth so it could be returned by last Tuesday.

"We still haven't gotten it and I hope it gets here tomorrow," Mrs. Willis said.

"I'm kind of cross at them up there," she said.

Mrs. Willis said she had been told by Assistant Superintendent Harris that, with the new setup, it would be unnecessary for the college to fill out forms for retirement and hospital deductions. But she still has to fill them out, she declared.

"I think the IBM payroll system will work out but I like people to be forthright."

Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman, board chairman and long-time skeptic of county IBM processing, said she expected "IBM will be out within two years."

Trustee William Hamilton said he could see no reason why Harris should not be called before the board. Trustee Rupert E. Kempf said he voted for the new type processing because it was to mean less work, and yet it has caused more work for Mrs. Willis.

Final decision was to allow the matter to rest until a board conference next Thursday night on academic standards, at which time it might be suggested Harris be asked to appear at the March 12 meeting.

Kempf said he was alarmed at a situation in which Mrs. Willis was the only person who knew how to do payroll processing according to the new requirements. He suggested that someone "understudy" Mrs. Willis.

Forty-five million bushels of potatoes went into potato chips in this country last year and another seven million bushels weer turned into commercially marketed French fries.
